Miami Trace Teachers To Get Pay Boosts; Building Group Set Up

Pay boosts for most teachers in the big Miami Trace school district were in the offing today after Wednesday night's meeting of the Miami Trace school board.

The board set up a uniform pay schedule for teachers throughout the district and planned a series of annual pay increases for teachers whose salaries do not come up to the new schedule.

The board also moved to set up a citizens' study group to investigate "all problems relating to the construction of a new high school building in the Miami Trace district."

The group will represent all 13 of the former local school districts now consolidated into the Miami Trace district.

The makeup of the new group was not announced, but Supt. W. W. Boyer said the group would "probably include two or three representatives" from the 13 former school districts.

Membership of the study group is not yet complete, Supt. Boyer said. When the group is organized, it will be empowered to make recommendations to the Miami Trace Board on the basis of its findings, he said.

THE SALARY schedule marked one more step in the forging of a single local district out of the county school system, which only a little over a year ago comprised 13 separate districts.

Among the many problems rising out of consolidation was the wide variance in teachers' salaries.

Each local district had set up its own salary schedule, and teachers with equal training and experience were drawing quite different pay rates in different schools of the district.

Using as a model the highest pay scale in any of the schools, the one used in the Wilson, Chaffin, Eber, Staunton and Milledgeville Schools, the board set up a new salary scale to be applied throughout the district.

Teachers in the five "model" schools, Supt. Boyer pointed out, are already receiving the salaries set up under the new schedule and so will not receive increases.

But teachers in all the other schools will receive annual increases until they reach the pay level to which their training and experience now entitle them.

The increases will be limited to $100 for the current school year and to $200 a year until salaries are equalized. Those are maximum figures; in many cases, of course, the full amount will not be due.

"The majority of teachers will be at their correct places on the schedule in two to three years," Supt. Boyer said.

THE NEW pay scale falls into five ranges, with $2660 a year as the minimum and $4350 as the maximum.

The ranges cover five different levels of training, with the spread within each range allowing for the amount of experience the teacher has.

The lowest range, from $2,660 to $3,410 annually, is for teachers with less than three years of college training. The highest, from $3,300 to $4,350, is for teachers with master's degrees.

Intermediate ranges are $2,860 to $3,610 (three years of college), $3,100 to $3,850 (bachelor's degree) and $3,200 to $4,100 (five years of college).

The new schedule becomes effective with the February payroll.

Believe it or not the wild geese are on the move northward and that is taken as a "sure sign" that little severe weather may be expected the remainder of the winter.

The first flock of northbound geese was reported by Clifford Young, well known former green house operator here who now resides on the Bogus Road a mile north of the Route 22 intersection. The big birds were heard honking as they passed over his home shortly before dusk Tuesday evening, Clifford said.

It was foggy at the time and the birds could not be seen, but their honking indicated they were on a true course northward, he said.

It is a little earlier than usual for the geese to be on their migratory flight.

meeting Wednesday included completing agreements with five insurance agencies in the county for placement of insurance on the school system's $1,500,000 valuation.

Insurance had formerly been carried by each of the separate local school boards in the district. The new agreements will pool all the insurance requirements and divide it between the five agencies selected.

The five are the Korn Insurance Agency, Inc., and the Sam Parrett Insurance Agency of Washington C. H.; the Robert M. Jefferson Insurance office of Bloomingburg and the A. G. Little Agency and the Morrow Insurance Agency of Jeffersonville.

The amounts of the total insurance to be bought from each agency have not yet been determined, Supt. Boyer said.

Wilbur Snapp of the Parrett Agency and Max Morrow of the Morrow Agency were present at the meeting.

Report Is Made On Farm Loans

Annual Meeting Of Association Here

Agriculture is meeting the challenge of an increasing World population through scientific research, Robert Terhune, master of Bobana Farms, told members of the Farmers National Farm Loan Association at their annual meeting at the Country Club here Wednesday.

During the business session following the turkey dinner, two new directors were elected, a report on the year's business was made by Richard E. Whiteside, the secretary-treasurer, and a dividend was distributed.

Benjamin Terrell of Clinton County and Ollie Christner of Madison County were elected to three-year terms on the board of directors. Other members of the board are Herbert Peterson of Clinton County, Wilbur Hidy of Fayette County, Paul Holway of Madison County, John L. Craig of Clinton County and John R. Rowland of Fayette County.

When the board organized, Craig was named the president; Rowland the vice president; Whiteside reappointed the secretary-treasurer, and Mary E. Rhoads the assistant secretary-treasurer.

The association covers Fayette, Madison and Clinton counties.

In the report of the secretary-treasurer, Whiteside noted that new loans amounting to $762,400 had been made to 62 farm families during the past year. The report also showed an increase in members from 276 to 290 during the year and that all loans held by the association at the close of 1955 amounted to $2,287,760.

The association's directors and employees were given special recognition for the new business of the past year with the presentation of a plaque by R. E. French, regional manager for the Federal Land Bank at Louisville, Ky. This was presented to the association.

Freezing Rain Slated For Ohio

COLUMBUS (AP)—The Ohio Weather Bureau issued this special warning this afternoon:

A band of freezing rain 50 to 80 miles wide is spreading eastward through the central part of Indiana. The freezing rain will move eastward across Ohio paralleling U.S. 40 and spreading out 20-30 miles on either side.

Ice forming as a result of the freezing rain, is expected to last from three to six hours in any one place. The first of this should reach Dayton about 3 to 4 p. m., Columbus, 5-6 p. m., and Newark 6-8 p. m.

Westinghouse Turns Down Public Inquiry

Settlement Sought By Governors Shunned; Union Boycott Talked

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The Westinghouse Electric Corp. strike entered its 123rd day today and an early settlement seemed remote after the firm's rejection of a public inquiry into the walkout.

As if in reply, the Columbus Federation of Labor and the Columbus CIO Council announced they are calling on the national AFL-CIO Executive Committee to start a nationwide boycott of all appliances made in struck Westinghouse plants.

Gov. George M. Leader of Pennsylvania, in cooperation with four other governors, had set up a two-man fact-finding board to study the strike which has idled 44,000 workers at 30 Westinghouse plants since Oct. 17.

Gwilym A. Price, Westinghouse board chairman and president sent telegrams to the governors rejecting the plan.

"Westinghouse cannot delegate to outsiders the right to determine the fundamental terms of the union agreement under which Westinghouse must live for some years," he said.

IN WASHINGTON, the AFL-CIO international Union of Electrical Workers said Westinghouse should "abandon its futile attempts to adjust this dispute by million-dollar propaganda campaigns" and try to achieve settlement by presenting its case to the fact-finding group.

The IUE already had accepted the governors' proposal. Leader previously said the probe would go on even without Westinghouse.

The Columbus labor groups said in a joint statement that their boycott resolution, adopted last night, is being forwarded to AFL-CIO President George Meany.

The resolution of the Columbus groups declared:

"Westinghouse is engaging in an all-out offensive against its 55,000 striking employees with one single aim in mind, to break the union of those workers and starve them into submission to management's unjust contract demands."

In another action, the two groups voted to start a joint fund-raising drive among the members of organized labor in Columbus, calling on all union members "to support Westinghouse strikers to the fullest of their ability."

High Court Shuns Ohio Bell Rate Case

COLUMBUS (AP)—Cities have explored the last legal avenue without finding an escape route from the rate increase granted to the Ohio Bell Telephone Co., effective Jan. 1, 1955.

That increase, estimated to amount to 20 cents for each subscriber, was upheld Jan. 25 by the Ohio Supreme Court. Yesterday, the court refused the cities' plea that it grant a rehearing in the case. The action means no further legal attacks can be made on the increase estimated to yield Ohio Bell about $7½ million a year in extra revenue.

Gov. Lausche Sends Sweet Note

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—Now comes Ohio and its governor into the inter-state, international rivalry over maple syrup.

Assemblywoman Janet Hill Gordon, Norwich Republican, made public today a letter she received from Gov. Frank J. Lausche of Ohio, in which he declared:

"You can save yourself a lot of anxiety and bring to an end this dispute by recognizing that while the maple syrup of New York, the New England states and Quebec is good, that of Ohio is the finest in the world."

Mrs. Gordon also made public her letter of reply. She said:

"I deny categorically that Ohio maple syrup is better than the flavorful, pure, ambrosia-like sap drawn from New York's magnificent and fruitful maples and made into the maple syrup supreme."

THUS LAUSCHE edged into the tongue-in-cheek controversy that flared last month when Gov. Harman announced his support of legislation that would designate the sugar maple as the official tree of New York State.

Maple syrup producing states of New England and the Canadian province protested that New York was stealing their stuff. Besides, they claimed, their syrup was better.

There were some claims that some states were importing syrup from others and labeling it to indicate it was home grown.

Mrs. Gordon introduced legislation designed to end that phase of the debate by requiring producers to put labels on syrup containers stating the producer's name and address.

Lausche wrote that to press for adoption of the bill "will be a mistake for New York because it will simplify the efforts of the buyer to identify the sweet, smooth satisfying syrup that is produced in our Buckeye State."

Baptist Church To Mark 116th Anniversary Here

A special vespers service Sunday afternoon will mark the 116th anniversary of the First Baptist Church here.

Founded Feb. 21, 1840 with 11 charter members, the church today has a congregation numbering more than 400.

The special service is to start at 4 P. M. Sunday.

Rev. Norman D. Renn, pastor of the church, will conduct the worship services. Special music will be sung by members of the senior and junior choirs, under the direction of Mrs. Eugene Thompson and Mrs. Robert E. Willis.

The motion picture "This, My Son" will be shown. The color and sound film is a modern version of the Biblical tale of the Prodigal Son.

At the close of the special service, which replaces the regular evening service, refreshments will be served.

The vespers will include an account of the growth of the church from its foundation on Feb. 21, 1840, with 11 charter members, until today, when the congregation numbers over 400.

Moving the church into a new phase of development this year, the congregation has voted to purchase three acres of land next to Fayette Memorial Hospital and is planning a new church to be erected there.

The new building will be the third the church has built in its 116-year history. The first was an $8,000 building on the site of the present church at the corner of North and East streets. Erected in 1862, the church burned down in 1885.

The present church was built on the site of the fire in 1888 at a cost of $10,000. The new church will cost an estimated $150,000.

The First Baptist Church is affiliated with the Clinton Baptist Association, the Ohio Baptist Convention and the American Baptist Convention.

Bloomington Wins First Varsity Tilt

The Washington C. H. High School gym was jammed with screaming breathless rooters Wednesday night as the curtain went up on the biggest event of the county school sports calendar—the Fayette County League tournament.

Hundreds of students, teachers, parents and just plain rooters screamed themselves hoarse as they watched the first round of the double-elimination varsity tourney.

In a firehouse finish, Bloomingburg bowled over Good Hope, 54-45, to go into the winners' round Saturday night with Jeffersonville. Jeff, the tourney favorite, was an automatic "winner" when it drew a bye in the pre-tourney drawing.

Good Hope will go into a losers' round game next Thursday with the team that misses out this Saturday.

NIP-AND-TUCK ALL the way. Wednesday's varsity game whipped fans into a frenzy. Not until the final moments of the game, after sizzling finish drive, did the rooters grow relatively calm.

In the first of the two games Wednesday, fans saw Good Hope's juniors thump Jeffersonville's, 56-10.

Down just slightly from last year's huge turnout, the attendance reflected the fact that only three teams are in the tourney this year.

Greenfielder Freed In Troy Death Hearing

TROY, Ohio (AP)—A man was freed from a first degree murder indictment Wednesday because, the prosecutor said, his wife would not be able to testify against him under state law.

Common Pleas Judge David S. Porter dismissed the charge against Cecil G. Maddy, 38-year-old Greenfield bartender, on recommendation of Prosecutor James H. DeWeese.

Maddy and Edward A. McMullen, 29-year-old Frankfort truck driver, had been jointly indicted for the holdup slaying of Grover Cleveland Chiple, 67, in his used furniture store here Dec. 27, 1954.

McMullen recently was sentenced to life imprisonment for the crime. A key witness against McMullen was Maddy's wife, Ella Mae She had gone to authorities last June, saying she feared for her life because she knew about the murder.

Her husband and McMullen were subsequently arrested.

DeWeese, in asking for dismissal of the charge against Maddy, said "available, competent testimony is not sufficient to warrant the necessary expense" of a trial.

Maddy's trial was scheduled to begin March 14.

The prosecutor said Mrs. Maddy would not be able to testify against her husband. Under Ohio law, he explained, a wife cannot testify against her husband unless a third party is witness to the evidence on which she would testify.

Maddy, however, was not freed entirely. Sheriff Richard Sieffred said Adams County authorities are expected here today to pick up Maddy on a warrant charging him with illegal possession of barbiturates.

Maddy was detained in county jail where he has spent the last eight months awaiting trial.

At McMullen's trial, Mrs. Maddy testified that the defendant had admitted the slaying to her. McMullen denied this. His attorney said Mrs. Maddy was trying to get McMullen and her husband out of the way. Mrs. Maddy had filed suit for divorce which is still pending.

Federal Court Order Brings Open Defiance

Roman Catholic Church Integration May Be Battled In Legislature

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—White supremacy advocates in Louisiana today appeared ready to make an all-out stand for segregation—including a battle against the Roman Catholic Church.

Defiant segregationists declared that "the people of Louisiana will not integrate" in compliance with a federal court ruling yesterday ordering desegregation in public schools.

At the same time, a hot legislative fight looms between the Roman Catholic Church and segregation leaders seeking a law that would halt church plans for integration in parochial schools.

Four state representatives asked last night for measures to prevent mixing races in private schools. Roman Catholic officials have said integration in their schools may come by September.

The four legislators were from the New Orleans area, where more than half the school children attend Roman Catholic schools.

THE REQUEST came shortly after a special three-judge federal court threw out state laws aimed at retaining segregation under the state's police powers.

The law created a controversy when passed four years ago. The House originally passed a bill banning integration in all schools, but later changed the wording to make the ban apply only to public schools after Archbishop Joseph Rummel intervened.

The U. S. constitutional guarantee of separation of church and state was involved.

The request last night came from Representatives Cyril Broussard, Joseph Casey and Frank Huerstel of New Orleans and E.W. Gravolet Jr. of adjacent Plaquemines county.

It was made in a letter to State Sen. W. M. Rainach, head of the Legislature's committee on segregation. They urged the 1954 laws be amended to include private schools.

Rainach criticized the three-man court which gave the ruling and the Orleans county school board said the next step would be to appeal the decision.

Rainach said the three judges "took an oath of office to uphold the Constitution of the United States, not an oath to uphold the palpably unconstitutional decision of the U. S. Supreme Court justices."

The court tossed out as unconstitutional the segregation laws enacted by Louisiana to sidestep the U. S. Supreme Court's ruling against separate white and Negro public schools.

IN THE WAKE of yesterday's decision, U. S. Dist. Judge J. Skelly Wright ordered New Orleans to end racial segregation in its public schools "with all deliberate speed." He pointed out that this did not mean the mixing of classes would come "overnight or even in a year or more."

Wright directed the school board to integrate classes "after such time as may be necessary to make arrangements for admission of children to such schools on a radically non-discriminatory basis."

Rainach aimed his criticism at Wright and his two fellow jurists, all natives of Louisiana. Judge Wayne G. Borah and Judge Herbert Christenberry shared in the ruling.

Wright cautioned that "the problem of changing a people's modes, particularly those with an emotional overlay, is not to be taken lightly."

After the U. S. Supreme Court decision in 1954 abolishing segregation in public schools, the Legislature passed a series of laws placing segregated schools under the state's inherent police powers.

The federal court ruled that the laws were unconstitutional.

Moving the church into a new phase of development this year, the congregation has voted to purchase three acres of land next to Fayette Memorial Hospital and is planning a new church to be erected there.

The new building will be the third the church has built in its 116-year history. The first was an $8,000 building on the site of the present church at the corner of North and East streets. Erected in 1862, the church burned down in 1885.

The present church was built on the site of the fire in 1888 at a cost of $10,000. The new church will cost an estimated $150,000.

The First Baptist Church is affiliated with the Clinton Baptist Association, the Ohio Baptist Convention and the American Baptist Convention.

Bloomington Wins First Varsity Tilt

The Washington C. H. High School gym was jammed with screaming breathless rooters Wednesday night as the curtain went up on the biggest event of the county school sports calendar—the Fayette County League tournament.

Hundreds of students, teachers, parents and just plain rooters screamed themselves hoarse as they watched the first round of the double-elimination varsity tourney.

In a firehouse finish, Bloomingburg bowled over Good Hope, 54-45, to go into the winners' round Saturday with Jeffersonville. Jeff, the tourney favorite, was an automatic "winner" when it drew a bye in the pre-tourney drawing.

Good Hope will go into a losers' round game next Thursday with the team that misses out this Saturday.

NIP-AND-TUCK ALL the way, Wednesday's varsity game whipped fans into a frenzy. Not until the final moments of the game, after sizzling finish drive, did the rooters grow relatively calm.

In the first of the two games Wednesday, fans saw Good Hope's juniors thump Jeffersonville's, 56-10.

Down just slightly from last year's huge turnout, the attendance reflected the fact that only three teams are in the tourney this year.

Greenfielder Freed In Troy Death Hearing

TROY, Ohio (AP)—A man was freed from a first degree murder indictment Wednesday because, the prosecutor said, his wife would not be able to testify against him under state law.

Common Pleas Judge David S. Porter dismissed the charge against Cecil G. Maddy, 38-year-old Greenfield bartender, on recommendation of Prosecutor James H. DeWeese.

Maddy and Edward A. McMullen, 29-year-old Frankfort truck driver, had been jointly indicted for the holdup slaying of Grover Cleveland Chiple, 67, in his used furniture store here Dec. 27, 1954.

McMullen recently was sentenced to life imprisonment for the crime. A key witness against McMullen was Maddy's wife, Ella Mae. She had gone to authorities last June, saying she feared for her life because she knew about the murder.

Her husband and McMullen were subsequently arrested.

DeWeese, in asking for dismissal of the charge against Maddy, said "available, competent testimony is not sufficient to warrant the necessary expense" of a trial.

Maddy's trial was scheduled to begin March 14.

The prosecutor said Mrs. Maddy would not be able to testify against her husband. Under Ohio law, he explained, a wife cannot testify against her husband unless a third party is witness to the evidence on which she would testify.

Maddy, however, was not freed entirely. Sheriff Richard Siefried said Adams County authorities are expected here today to pick up Maddy on a warrant charging him with illegal possession of barbiturates.

Maddy was detained in county jail where he has spent the last eight months awaiting trial.

At McMullen's trial, Mrs. Maddy testified that the defendant had admitted the slaying to her. McMullen denied this. His attorney said Mrs. Maddy was trying to get McMullen and her husband out of the way. Mrs. Maddy had filed suit for divorce which is still pending.

OSU Alumni Fund Given Big Boost

COLUMBUS (AP)—A total of 23,439 alumni and friends contributed $622,464.85 to Ohio State University's Development Fund, the largest yearly donation and largest number of contributors in the fund's 17 years.

Last year's contributions raise to $5,194,494 the amount given to the fund since 1939. Contributors during the same period totaled 213,146.

Federal Court Order Brings Open Defiance

Roman Catholic Church Integration May Be Battled In Legislature

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—White supremacy advocates in Louisiana today appeared ready to make an all-out stand for segregation—including a battle against the Roman Catholic Church.

Defiant segregationists declared that "the people of Louisiana will not integrate" in compliance with a federal court ruling yesterday ordering desegregation in public schools.

At the same time, a hot legislative fight looms between the Roman Catholic Church and segregation leaders seeking a law that would halt church plans for integration in parochial schools.

Four state representatives asked last night for measures to prevent mixing races in private schools. Roman Catholic officials have said integration in their schools may come by September.

The four legislators were from the New Orleans area, where more than half the school children attend Roman Catholic schools.

THE REQUEST came shortly after a special three-judge federal court threw out state laws aimed at retaining segregation under the state's police powers.

The law created a controversy when passed four years ago. The House originally passed a bill banning integration in all schools, but later changed the wording to make the ban apply only to public schools after Archbishop Joseph Rummel intervened.

The U. S. constitutional guarantee of separation of church and state was involved.

The request last night came from Representatives Cyril Broussard, Joseph Casey and Frank Huerstel of New Orleans and E.W. Gravolet Jr. of adjacent Plaquemines county.

It was made in a letter to State Sen. W. M. Rainach, head of the Legislature's committee on segregation. They urged the 1954 laws be amended to include private schools.

Rainach criticized the three-man court which gave the ruling and the Orleans county school board said the next step would be to appeal the decision.

Rainach said the three judges "took an oath of office to uphold the Constitution of the United States, not an oath to uphold the palpably unconstitutional decision of the U. S. Supreme Court justices."

The court tossed out as unconstitutional the segregation laws enacted by Louisiana to sidestep the U. S. Supreme Court's ruling against separate white and Negro public schools.

IN THE WAKE of yesterday's decision, U. S. Dist. Judge J. Skelly Wright ordered New Orleans to end racial segregation in its public schools "with all deliberate speed." He pointed out that this did not mean the mixing of classes would come "overnight or even in a year or more."

Wright directed the school board to integrate classes "after such time as may be necessary to make arrangements for admission of children to such schools on a radically non-discriminatory basis."

Rainach aimed his criticism at Wright and his two fellow jurists, all natives of Louisiana. Judge Wayne G. Borah and Judge Herbert Christenberry shared in the ruling.

Wright cautioned that "the problem of changing a people's modes, particularly those with an emotional overlay, is not to be taken lightly."

After the U. S. Supreme Court decision in 1954 abolishing segregation in public schools, the Legislature passed a series of laws placing segregated schools under the state's inherent police powers.

The federal court ruled that the laws were unconstitutional.

Youngstown Thief Drives A Cadillac

YOUNGSTOWN (AP)—Prosperity is so good here these days that thieves are using Cadillacs.

One of the big cars pulled into a South Side service station, ordered several dollars worth of gas then accompanied the attendant into the station to get his change from a $20 bill. As the attendant counted out the change, the driver scooped $75 out of the cash register and fled.

Tri-County Board Meeting Held Here

Some of the key provisions of the "offer to purchase" contract were explained by Attorney E. S. Woodmansee when he spoke to a gathering of 25 members of the Tri-County Real Estate Board at their regular monthly meeting at Anderson's Drive-in Restaurant Wednesday evening.

Most of his talk centered on the standard form of the "offer to purchase" contract, which has been adopted by the Ohio Association of Real Estate Boards for use in real estate transactions handled by its member realtors.

Many of the legal technicalities of the contract were explained by Woodmansee and at the end of his talk, he invited questions from the realtors, of which there were many.

Charles Ault, president of the Tri-County Board, presided at the business session.

The Board is made up of realtors, their salesmen and associate members from Fayette, Clinton and Highland counties.

C. W. Mustine, a salesman of the Tom Mark agency, was accepted as a new member of the board.

Washington C. H. realtors at the meeting were Ben Norris, Robert Boyd, Oscar Orr, Mac Dews, Mark and Mustine.

Farm Loan Meeting

the sixth such plaque won by the association here in seven years.

TERHUNE, in his talk on how "Agriculture Meets the Challenge Through Research," said that in the United States there are 244 acres of cropland to supply every person 3,200 calories of food daily and that in the world there is only one acre of cropland to feed one person 2,100 calories daily.

However, he declared studies showed that in 40 years there would be only 1 1/2 acres per person in the United States and only .6 of an acre per person in the world as a whole.

Research and "high coal farming," he said have increased farm output 30 percent in 15 years to emphasize that science is meeting the challenge of increasing population by increasing farm production.

To achieve this production increase, Terhune told the gathering of farmers that science is doing with atomic by-products almost overnight what it took Nature millions of years to do.

He predicted, among other things, that there would be seedless fruit and dwarf corn. New crops are being tried out, too, he said and told the farmers: "Don't snicker. Only a few years ago, they laughed at soybeans."

Chemical fertilizers, he said, have eased fears that the soil will wear out and declared that "the livestock world is stirred by the impact of hybrid vigor."

Science, he said, has found that the faster a young bull's heart beats, the faster his gaining ability and that a Purdue professor has developed a technique for predicting the amount of milk a heifer calf will produce when she grows up.

He cited the "sensational strides" made in scientific feeding of livestock and said that 35 cents worth of hormones would put $25 worth of extra meat on a steer.

Ten Graduate From Juvenile Grange

Graduation for 10 Juvenile Grange members was held when the Forest Shade Grange met recently for a pot luck supper.

Eddie Wilson, Max Carson, Robert Caplinger, Melanie and Carol Handley, Ruth Ann and Carolyn Carson, Janet Lou Ritter, Janet Knedler and Karen Sue Marshall were the graduates, with ceremonies conducted by juvenile grange officers.

Mrs. Robert Ritter, Mrs. Robert McFadden and Mrs. Edward Lee Carson decorated the hall for the occasion.

The Grange group made contributions to the State Grange youth program and Mt. Logan Sanitarium occupational therapy program and decided to solicit for the Heart Fund.

Robert Caldwell was voted in as a new member.

Mr. and Mrs. Treon Ellis, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Ellis, Mrs. Etta Ellis, Cyril and Beryl Ellis and Mrs. Elizabeth Davidson served as hosts and hostesses for the pot luck supper.

Another pancake supper is set for March 8 at the hall. The finance and home economics committees will be in charge of all arrangements.

Final Services Held For Mrs. Whiteside

Funeral services for Mrs. Elizabeth Whiteside were held 2 P. M. Wednesday at the Kirkpatrick Funeral Home here with Rev. Herbert Ricketts conducting services assisted by Dr. Paul Elliott both of Bloomingburg.

Rev. Ricketts read from the Scriptures and gave a sermon. Dr. Elliott offered prayer and read an obituary.

Flowers were cared for by pallbearers William Purcell, Jerry Nessel, Carl Wood, Robert Jefferson, Thomas Parrett and Glenn Whiteside.

Burial was in the family lot in the Bloomingburg Cemetery.

the sixth such plaque won by the association here in seven years.

TERHUNE, in his talk on how "Agriculture Meets the Challenge Through Research," said that in the United States there are 244 acres of cropland to supply every person 3,200 calories of food daily and that in the world there is only one acre of cropland to feed one person 2,100 calories daily.

However, he declared studies showed that in 40 years there would be only 1½ acres per person in the United States and only .6 of an acre per person in the world as a whole.

Research and "high coal farming," he said have increased farm output 30 percent in 15 years to emphasize that science is meeting the challenge of increasing population by increasing farm production.

To achieve this production increase, Terhune told the gathering of farmers that science is doing with atomic by-products almost overnight what it took Nature millions of years to do.

He predicted, among other things, that there would be seedless fruit and dwarf corn. New crops are being tried out, too, he said and told the farmers: "Don't snicker. Only a few years ago, they laughed at soybeans."

Chemical fertilizers, he said, have eased fears that the soil will wear out and declared that "the livestock world is stirred by the impact of hybrid vigor."

Science, he said, has found that the faster a young bull's heart beats, the faster his gaining ability and that a Purdue professor has developed a technique for predicting the amount of milk a heifer calf will produce when she grows up.

He cited the "sensational strides" made in scientific feeding of livestock and said that 35 cents worth of hormones would put $25 worth of extra meat on a steer.

Truman Remarks And A President's Health

It shouldn't be, but there seems to be a lot of political turmoil aroused over the coming decision and the health of President Eisenhower.

There are features of the talk going on which, especially the remarks of President Truman, certainly seem to reach the asinine stage.

If President Eisenhower decided to be a candidate or not to be, it would seem that of the remarks being made ill-become those of the Truman type who make them. His innuendoes seem to fit very well with his record for always indulging in small-time politics whenever he has a chance to open his mouth.

Former President Truman, the nation's most vociferous party politician, does not shrink from scurrility in his public remarks, and he certainly goes beyond the pale in implying that the Democrats will offer a presidential candidate as such rather than—as he says the GOP would have to with Mr. Eisenhower—a "regency or part-time chairman of the board."

The first place, the Democratic party will be in no better position to guarantee the health of its Presidential candidate (whoever he may be) than will the Republican party with its candidate (whether Mr. Eisenhower or another). Such matters are not in the hands of politicians.

In the second place, Mr. Truman has carefully and disingenuously ignored the cases of two Democratic Presidents, Woodrow Wilson and Franklin Roosevelt. The second term of the former ended in something less tangible even than a regency owing to Mr. Wilson's progressive incapacity for office. The fourth term of Roosevelt was undertaken when FDR was too deteriorated physically to permit photographs of himself except those which were specially posed, and it ended in a few months with a sudden, fatal collapse.

Truman himself, as the vice presidential candidate in 1944, was of course directly implicated in the campaign to elect a president in failing health. It was certainly as great a gamble as any which the GOP would face this fall if President Eisenhower decides to run again.

Hence it seems to us bad ethics no less than bad taste for Mr. Truman to raise the issue of President Eisenhower's health, although it is not likely HST will be much impressed by either charge.

It may also prove to be bad judgment in the political sense, however, and there is no good reason why Mr. Truman should persist in inflicting errors of that kind on his party.

Most Baldies Fear Toupees

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (U)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't read his mail:

That nearly four out of five American men over 25 years of age are worried about losing their hair.

That while a majority of bald-ies think it would be a good idea for their bald friends to wear a toupee they are afraid to do so a fear of being kidded. But for some reason they don't feel President Eisenhower or Adlai
Stevenson should don a toupee.

That 76 per cent of the custom-made hair-pieces made by a major firm in this growing industry are bought by men under 40 and the biggest demand is for the Ivy League crew-cut style.

That you can be identified by your "brainprint" now as well as by your fingerprints. Medical research has established that the patterns of electrical energy given off by your brain are as individual as the whorls on your fingerprints.

That you can make money in the average tavern by naming the one at the bar can name the seven U. S. Presidents who died or were assassinated while in office. They were W. H. Harrison, Taylor, Lincoln, Garfield, Mc-Kinley, Harding and Franklin D.

Roosevelt.

That for all his height and great strength Abraham Lincoln was a light eater. For the benefit of the calorie-conscious, here is how "Old Abe" solved his food needs on a typical day: Breakfast, one egg, one cup of coffee;
lunch, a biscuit, a glass of milk, an apple; dinner, soup, meat and potatoes. The only dessert he liked was homemade apple pie.

That although production of the "Tin Goose," Ford's famous tri-motor aerial transport, ceased in 1932 many of these distinctive old planes are still in active service, particularly in bush country.

That a man who boasts he is double jointed doesn't know what he is bragging about. The ligaments that hold his bones together simply are looser than those of the ordinary person. If he actually had double joints, he would belong in a bottle at Harvard, along with other medical rarities.

That Joe Miller never really wrote a joke book. Miller, an English comedian who died in 1738, was just as unoriginal as any of today's celebrated comics, who notoriously have to lean on hired gagsters for most of their laugh material. The joke book that bears Miller's name was written by John Motley, a playwright of that day.

That Uncle Sam's "revenoo-ers" are no more miffed at moonshiners than licensed distillers, who estimate that more than a fourth of the whisky consumed in America last year was turned out by tax-ducking illegal stills.

That traffic experts predict the nation's highways, jammed with more than 61 million vehicles now, will have to carry 80 million by the end of 1960. Free parking places should become top prizes on TV giveaway programs then.

That hearing aids concealed in eyeglasses are becoming commonplace now, but in 1890 many partly deaf men wore ear trumpets built into their hats.

That a new tourist sport in Turkey is to swim from Europe to Asia. It can be done by paddling a mile and a half across the warm waters of the Bosphorus at Istanbul.

That there is still a lot of common sense in the old North Carolina folk saying, "Son, you better learn to cut your fingernails with your left hand, because some day you may lose your right."

Degeneration Of Dance Music

By George Sokolsky

I have been reading some authoritative articles that teenagers of this generation do not know how to dance. One of the disadvantages of being sick is that you read whatever comes to hand and so I read that teen-agers do not know how to dance. It has been my experience that few people enjoy dancing these days because dance floors are too small.

They seem to be planned so that a man takes his woman, does a few steps, is caught in a human trap and spends the rest of the time marking time with his hips or shoulders. Rhythmic movement with the feet is impossible without stepping on or bumping others.

But even if the dance halls were large enough to make a whirl possible, the music is strictly anti-dance. This is explainable. To dance, music must be rhythmic. The beat must be regular. How can anyone dance when the orchestra goes off the beat to exhibit vocalists, as they call them, or a clarinetist or a drummer? These vocalists are particularly bad because they have no voices, as can be proved by removing the microphone.

Lily Pons, who has a voice, does not need a microphone even in the enormous Metropolitan Opera House, but then Lily Pons is not a vocalist; she is a soprano.

These vocalists call themselves stylists, which means that they learn how to sing songs so that they all sound alike. But nobody can dance to the style you dance to a beat, to a measure, to time.
So you sit down and listen to the stylist and maybe you like it or not. But if enough like it, the fellow gets rich, becomes a celebrity, has woman-trouble and has his name in the newspapers.

I used to like to dance once or twice a week and searched out rather old-fashioned orchestras that played for the dance and not for style. But most of my favorites have disappeared and that just shows what style will do. In one of the places I used to go to, they now have a pianist who plays for his own enjoyment. Nobody attempts to dance when that pianist is at work because he has no sense of time or melody, only a facility to hit the keys hard and fast. He not only kills dancing but he kills conversation. You pay your money and get no relaxation. If I ever get out of this hospital and am allowed out at night, I shall not go to this place where for 20 years, I danced with my wife whom I like to call the "old lady," which is a translation from the Chinese "Lao Tai-Tai," a term both of endearment and respect.

The teen-agers really know no better. They go to hear name bands in theaters and sit and listen, keeping time with their feet but not dancing. Or they go to a beer hall to hear Dixieland Jazz where they just sit around, drink beer, and keep time with swizzle sticks. They are all amateur band leaders. But they do not dance and in most of these places, there is not even a place to dance. They are not supposed to do anything but listen and applaud.

The dance is one of man's oldest forms of expression. It will reassert itself. Already all over the country, the square dance is reappearing and it is good, solid dancing without any of the "styles" which corrupt the name bands. The square dance requires a rhythm and beat that cannot be missed without upsetting the whole thing and a caller, who is really the band leader, who got out of step would soon find himself out on the grass counting four-leaf clover.

Square dancing is good American custom, going back as far as there is any American history and the language of it is about as primitively American as we have. So, there is a reassertion of the will to dance. Including the clothes we shall be wearing, now that young men wear plaid ties instead of black ties and all sorts of Georgian concoctions. We might go back to anything, once we start going back at all.

CHARLES WILSON LOVE, 18, Reed, Ky., is attended at Southtown Hospital, Chicago, after he was found nearly frozen to death in a Santa Fe Railroad refrigerator car. Love, a Navy recruit, was assigned to the Great Lakes Naval Training Center. Laborers discovered the youth when they opened the car to wash out its interior. At first he was believed dead but, when they noticed a movement of one of his legs, he was taken to the hospital. Physicians said Love's body temperature registered at only 68 degrees, compared with normal temperature of 98.6. A team of four doctors and four nurses treated Love for two hours and managed to raise his temperature to 94.8. The Navy recruit's condition was regarded as being critical.

Best Rest Big Help
In Rheumatic Fever

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

We have no miracle drugs to cure rheumatic fever. But the old tried and true method—plenty of bed rest—is still the best treatment during the active stage of the disease.

Drugs, of course, play their part, too.

Aspirin or sodium salicylate generally reduce the temperature and abolish the joint pains within a few days. Recently, some doctors have been trying ACTH and cortisone.

Local applications to the joints also may be helpful. Maybe your doctor will recommend use of methylsalicylate liniment to give some relief.

If the joint pains are really severe, he might advise holding the painful limb or limbs rigid through use of weights and pul-leys. Maybe elevating the clothes from the body by use of a bed cradle will help.

Although diet is not particularly important, the patient probably will want nothing but fluids during the early stages. Thereafter, foods should be especially nutritious.

Long Bed Rest

Even if the heart is not obviously involved, the patient should remain in bed for at least three months. And if the heart is affected it means a minimum of six months' bed rest.

That's a long time to keep a youngster in bed and it's going to be a trying period for you parents as well as the victim.

Right here let me warn you to hide any alarm you might have.

A youngster confined to bed for several months might easily develop a poor mental attitude if he sees you worrying about his recovery.

Be Confident

Be confident of his recovery—the odds are greatly in his favor—and let him share this confidence. The heart is a pretty tough organ. Tell him so.

It's important, of course, that you permit your child to enjoy all the activities the doctor allows. The doctor knows better than you when it's okay for the youngster to do certain things.

To keep the child's spirits up, keep his mind busy. If you've got a record player or a radio, place it beside his bed. A goldfish or a bird in the room also will help keep him company.

Maybe a plant or flower will arouse his interest if you explain to him that it grows a little each day.

Keeping his hands busy, too, is a good idea, if it doesn't tire him.
Modeling clay, paints, crayons—they're all good for passing time.
Picture books, magazines, puzzles, card games—you'll think of a lot of things with which the temporarily invalid can keep occupied.

vere, such operations are not suggested, as a rule.

Truman Remarks And A President's Health

It shouldn't be, but there seems to be a lot of political turmoil aroused over the coming decision and the health of President Eisenhower.

There are features of the talk going on which, especially the remarks of President Truman, certainly seem to reach the asinine stage.

If President Eisenhower decided to be a candidate or not to be, it would seem that of the remarks being made ill-become those of the Truman type who make them. His innuendoes seem to fit very well with his record for always indulging in small-time politics whenever he has a chance to open his mouth.

Former President Truman, the nation's most vociferous party politician, does not shrink from scurrility in his public remarks, and he certainly goes beyond the pale in implying that the Democrats will offer a presidential candidate as such rather than—as he says the GOP would have to with Mr. Eisenhower—a "regency or part-time chairman of the board."

The first place, the Democratic party will be in no better position to guarantee the health of its Presidential candidate (whoever he may be) than will the Republican party with its candidate (whether Mr. Eisenhower or another). Such matters are not in the hands of politicians.

In the second place, Mr. Truman has carefully and disingenuously ignored the cases of two Democratic Presidents, Woodrow Wilson and Franklin Roosevelt. The second term of the former ended in something less tangible even than a regency, owing to Mr. Wilson's progressive incapacity for office. The fourth term of Roosevelt was undertaken when FDR was too deteriorated physically to permit photographs of himself except those which were specially posed, and it ended in a few months with a sudden, fatal collapse.

Truman himself, as the vice presidential candidate in 1944, was of course directly implicated in the campaign to reelect a president in failing health. It was certainly as great a gamble as any which the GOP would face this fall if President Eisenhower decides to run again.

Hence it seems to us bad ethics no less than bad taste for Mr. Truman to raise the issue of President Eisenhower's health, although it is not likely HST will be much impressed by either charge.

It may also prove to be bad judgment in the political sense, however, and there is no good reason why Mr. Truman should persist in inflicting errors of that kind on his party.

Most Baldies Fear Toupees

NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't read his mail:

That nearly four out of five American men over 25 years of age are worried about losing their hair.

That while a majority of baldies think it would be a good idea for their bald friends to wear a toupee they are afraid to do so a fear of being kidded. But for some reason they don't feel President Eisenhower or Adlai Stevenson should don a toupee.

That 76 per cent of the custom-made hair-pieces made by a major firm in this growing industry are bought by men under 40 and the biggest demand is for the Ivy League crew-cut style.

That you can be identified by your "brainprint" now as well as by your fingerprints. Medical research has established that the patterns of electrical energy given off by your brain are as individual as the whorls on your fingerprints.

That you can make money in the average tavern by betting no one at the bar can name the seven U. S. Presidents who died or were assassinated while in office. They were W. H. Harrison, Taylor, Lincoln, Garfield, McKinley, Harding and Franklin D.

Roosevelt.

That for all his height and great strength Abraham Lincoln was a light eater. For the benefit of the calorie-conscious, here is "Old Abe" solved his food needs on a typical day: Breakfast, one egg, one cup of coffee; lunch, a biscuit, a glass of milk, an apple; dinner, soup, meat and potatoes. The only dessert he liked was homemade apple pie.

That although production of the "Tin Goose," Ford's famous trimotor aerial transport, ceased in 1932 many of these distinctive old planes are still in active service, particularly in bush country.

That a man who boasts he is double-jointed doesn't know what he is bragging about. The ligaments that hold his bones together simply are looser than those of the ordinary person. If he actually had double joints, he would belong in a bottle at Harvard, along with other medical rarities.

That Joe Miller never really wrote a joke book. Miller, an English comedian who died in 1738, was just as unoriginal as any of today's celebrated comics, who notoriously have to lean on hired gagsters for most of their laugh material. The joke book that bears Miller's name was written by John Mottley, a playwright of that day.

That Uncle Sam's "revenooers" are no more miffed at moonshiners than licensed distillers, who estimate that more than a fourth of the whisky consumed in America last year was turned out by tax-ducking illegal stills.

That traffic experts predict the nation's highways, jammed with more than 61 million vehicles now, will have to carry 80 million by the end of 1960. Free parking places should become top prizes on TV giveaway programs then.

That hearing aids concealed in eyeglasses are becoming commonplace now, but in 1890 many partly deaf men wore ear trumpets built into their hats.

That a new tourist sport in Turkey is to swim from Europe to Asia. It can be done by paddling a mile and a half across the warm waters of the Bosphorus at Istanbul.

That there is still a lot of commonsense in the old North Carolina folk saying, "Son, you better learn to cut your fingernails with your left hand, because some day you may lose your right."

Bamboo Studied For Paper Supply

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department is working on development of a new crop—timber bamboo—which may become a major source of paper supply.

Experiments with the bamboo are being conducted in the south eastern part of the United States, department research specialists have told a House Appropriations subcommittee, and indications are that it "has some possibility."

Officials said research demonstrates that bamboo is "an excellent source" of paper pulp and produces about six times as much cellulose as a pine tree does in an equivalent period of time.

Mrs. Wilbur Hidy Is Hostess To Club Members

Eleven members of the Sugar Grove Home Demonstration Club met at the home of Mrs. Wilbur Hidy for an all day session.

The morning was spent in rug making which is the monthly project and at the noon hour a delicious sack lunch was enjoyed with Mrs. Hidy serving a tempting dessert course assisted by Mrs. Mac Smith.

A short business meeting in the afternoon was conducted by the president, Mrs. Albert Bryant, during which the usual reports were given and Mrs. Harold Finley was appointed to make a sign holder for the club, to be used for the Achievement Day display, April 13.

The remainder of the afternoon was spent in the work on rugs.

The next meeting March 13 will be held at the home of Mrs. Arthur Schlechter.

The meeting was opened with singing games, and roll call was responded to by nineteen members.

During the craft work period the girls learned to braid handles for baskets which they completed at the meeting.

The small hostess, Pamela Payton, served a special treat to take home in the baskets just completed and the meeting was concluded with the forming of the Friendship Circle.

Garden Club Holds Meeting At Seaman Home

The February meeting of the Posa Garden Club was held Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Bess Seaman, near Madison Mills Wednesday afternoon.

In the absence of the president, Mrs. Max Schlechter and vice president, Mrs. H. W. Melvin, Mrs. Seaman presided over the meeting and opened with the reading of the poem "A Little Boy's Kiss".

The usual reports were followed with roll call responded to by eight members who named their favorite house plant, and Mrs. Seaman described mountain laurel which is a native vine of Kentucky, her former home.

The members were asked to bring seeds and bulbs to the March meeting to be used in an exchange. Mrs. Homer Wilson was in charge of the program reading an interesting article on the topic "Long Lasting Perennials", and told the members that tubers of the Lily of the valley may be grown indoors.

She also read articles on "Good Perennials for South Central Gardens", "Double Duty Flowers" in which she pointed out that larkspur, delphinium blossoms may be picked at the proper time and dried successfully indoors.

In the article "What Can I Grow in Shady Soil" she named tuberous begonias as one of the most popular for growing in shady spots.

Flower arrangements in both dried and live specimens were brought by the members for display, which were most unusual and in a wide variety.

At the close of the meeting Mrs. Seaman served tempting refreshments.

The March meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Lester Haines in Madison Mills.

Mrs. Alkire Entertains At Class Meeting

Mrs. Fulton Alkire extended the hospitality of her home for the February meeting of the Marquette Class of First Presbyterian Church.

The class president, Mrs. Kenneth Craig, called the meeting to order and following the usual reports twenty-two members and the teacher, Mrs. Marguerite Hodge, responded to roll call.

Mrs. John Sagar, Sr., led in the devotions which included Scripture reading from the 121 Psalm and prayer.

Correspondence men from service men were read in response for gifts sent them at Christmas.

Mrs. C. L. Musser reminded the members of the Family Night supper at the church February 21 honoring new members, and the meeting was adjourned.

Mrs. John Sagar, Sr., acted as auctioneer for the white elephant sale which provided a pleasant hour as well as adding funds to the treasury.

Later delicious refreshments were served from the dining room table beautifully decorated with an arrangement of red and white carnations softly lighted with tall white tapers, which carried out a lovely Valentine with Mrs. Marguerite Hodge and Mrs. Kenneth Craig presiding over the silver service at either end of the table.

Assisting Mrs. Alkire as hostesses were, Mrs. George Campbell, Mrs. Hilbert Meyer and Mrs. Kenneth Arnold.

Mrs. Harold McCord of Columbus was included as a guest.

Circle Members Hold Meeting At Fite Home

Members of W.S.C.S. Circle 9 of Grace Methodist Church assembled at the home of Mrs. Herbert Fite for the regular meeting and two guests, Mrs. Clinton W. Swengel and Mrs. Earl Grim, were included.

The business meeting was presided over by the leader, Mrs. John F. Dial, and the impressive devotional services were led by Mrs. Frank M. Haines.

A memorial service was also conducted for Mrs. Eva Hostler, a member recently deceased.

For the program, Mrs. Orpha Avann, was presented in a most interesting talk on Egypt.

At the close of Mrs. Avann's talk, refreshments were served by Mrs. Fite and her assisting hostesses, Mrs. Lon Scott and Mrs. V. W. Landrum.

Birthday party coming up? Surround the birthday cake with balls of ice cream rolled in tinted coconut.

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Kelley were in Columbus Wednesday night for the Columbus Audubon Society's screen tour "Land of the Scarlet Macaw" given at the Ohio State Museum by Dr. Ernest P. Edwards, of Amherst, Va., and also attended a dinner given by the society at Presutti's Villa, in honor of Dr. Edwards.

Mrs. Jerry Grundies has returned from a four week's vacation, enjoyed at Fort Myers and Ft. Lauderdale, Florida, with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Albyn of Newark.

Mrs. Hazel K. Devins left Thursday morning for Bay Village where she will spend several days as the guest of her sister, Mrs. R. M. Fisher, and Mr. Fisher.

Mrs. Helen Dunton, worthy high priestess, presided over the meeting and Mr. Leonard Korn, watchman of the shepherds, were assisted by their corps of officers during the evening.

Following the business session, decorations for the ceremonial were arrangements of yellow and white chrysanthemums and white tapers in tall candelabra during which the degrees were conferred upon Mr. and Mrs. Fred Enslin.

Following the impressive ceremonial, a social hour was enjoyed, and dainty refreshments were served from a tea table decorated in a pink and white color scheme with a large birthday cake topped with a single candle, flanked by pink tapers, with Mrs. Clifford Hughes, chairman of the hostesses, presiding at the tea table and others assisting her were Mrs. Dana Hyer, Mrs. Frank Mayo, Mrs. Marian Smith, and Mrs. Ferrell Smith.

nard, Mrs. Betty Whitecotton, Mrs. Martha Trith, and Mrs. Pearl Armstrong, all members of the Shrine of Greenville, and several guests from the Shrine in Columbus.

Valentine Party Is Enjoyed By BPO Does

The regular meeting of the BPO Does, held in the Elks Lodge room was highlighted with a Valentine Party and buffet supper.

The business session was opened according to the ritual by the president, Mrs. Darrell Williams.

Mrs. Thomas Sever, secretary, and Mrs. Robert Ferguson, treasurer, gave their reports which were accepted as read, and twenty-two members responded to roll call.

A lengthy discussion was held on projects for the coming year, and the president announced the chairman of all standing committees, who are: Public Relations, Mrs. W. E. Klever; Relief, Mrs. Charles James; Membership, Mrs. Charles Mallow; Lapsation, Mrs. Samuel Douds; Social Affairs, Mrs. Samuel Ways and Means, Mrs. Donald Soale; Historian, Mrs. Virtus Kruse; Parliamentarian, Mrs. C. S. Kelley; Cards and Flowers, Mrs. Heber Row; Courtesy, Mrs. Paul Anderson and Auditing, Mrs. Charles Fults.

The meeting was adjourned in ritualistic form and the members enjoyed a Valentine exchange.

Later, a buffet supper was served from a table beautifully decorated with clever Valentine suggestions by the social committee, composed of Mrs. Wayne Manahan, Mrs. Virtus Kruse, Mrs. Willard Carlisle and Mrs. Charles Fults.

Sorority Plans New Project At Meeting

Mrs. David Moore was hostess to members of Alpha Theta Chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha Sorority, Wednesday evening for a social meeting.

The business meeting was called to order by Mrs. Charles Gibeaut, president, and following the usual reports, correspondence from International Headquarters was read.

It was decided to send contributions to flood stricken area in Yuba City, California, through chapters in that area.

A report on the State Council meeting held in Zanesville in January was given by the president, assisted by other members.

Plans were also made to work at the T. B. Center on Monday, February 20 at 7:30 P. M. and a lengthy discussion was held on a current project to raise funds for the treasury with Mrs. Samuel Wilson, and Mrs. Robert Goodson appointed as the committee in charge.

The vice president, Mrs. Samuel Athey, presented Mrs. Charles Gibeaut and Mrs. Dwight Martin with full crown jewell pins which had been earned through the point system and the business session was adjourned.

Later a delicious sandwich course was served by the hostess and her co-hostess, Mrs. John W. Craig.

Two pounds of short ribs will make four servings. The ribs will have to be braised a couple of hours.

Letter-Writing To Judges Gets Cool Reception

Ohio Supreme Court Members Receiving Unwanted Messages

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Most judges take a dim view of letter writers who tell them how to decide cases in their courts.

Members of the Ohio Supreme Court are no exception.

High court judges recently received nearly 50 letters and telegrams about a case up for oral arguments by both sides before a decision.

The case concerned an appeal from refusal of the state liquor department to issue a new license for sale of whisky by the glass. Involved was the question of whether the state could continue its "freeze" on new permits.

Ohio established the "freeze" in 1949. Because permits were based on population in wet areas, attorneys contended that communities with large gains should be allowed more tavern and club licenses.

They claimed the "freeze" enforced prohibition on growing towns whether residents wanted it or not.

All the communications to the court urged a decision to maintain the "freeze."

The court has not indicated when it would decide the case but Chief Justice Carl V. Weyandt had this to say about the communications: "Many people seem unmindful of the clear distinction between the legislative and judicial processes."

"Most questions of policy are determined by our national and state legislatures. The members of these legislatures are expected to represent their constituents and reflect their views. Hence, it is proper and helpful for people to express their ideas to their legislators on these questions of policy."

"However, the courts are with out authority to decide questions of legislative policy. Instead, the courts determine questions of law. Statutory law is accepted by the courts as enacted by the legislatures."

"The duty of the courts is to determine the validity of the law and then interpret and apply it. Hence, the courts are not permitted to concern themselves with the popularity or unpopularity of a valid statute."

"If a change is desired, this can be accomplished through the Legislature alone."

In contrast to judges, members of the Legislature usually delight in receiving expressions of opinion from voters. The law-makers often say that bona fide "fan" mail helps them decide whether to support or vote against some proposals.

That is why they say it is a good thing for voters to tell their elected representatives how they feel about changing various laws.

During debate on difficult legislation, law-makers often warn against hasty action. At such times they remind fellow legislators that the courts will interpret the law as it is enacted, regardless of what sponsors intended the changes to accomplish.

Attorneys, who termed it improper to try to influence court decisions, said letter writers probably would not invite contempt of action unless they were litigants in cases at bar.

Letter writing, they explained, should be done before laws are enacted. It is too late, they add, when a dispute over interpretation of a law reaches the courts.

Ike Asked To Set School Aid Curbs

WASHINGTON (AP)—Eight House Democrats have asked President Eisenhower to declare he would not allocate federal funds to any public school system defying the Supreme Court ruling against segregation of pupils.

Such a declaration, they wrote, would make unnecessary a proposed anti-segregation amendment to a bill to provide $1.6 billion in federal construction funds to help the states relieve over-crowded public school systems.

The letter was signed by Reps. Ashley (Ohio), Boyle (Ill.), Clark (Pa.), Quigley (Pa.), Edith Green (Ore.), Hayworth (Mich.), Reuss (Wis.) and Rhodes (Pa.).

Vegetable Growers Oppose Supports

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Ohio Vegetable and Potato Growers Assn. opposes price supports or subsidies in its field.

It also went on record as against diverted farm acreage being put into crops which do not have quotas, such as vegetables and expressed opposition to irrigation projects.

The association's annual meeting adopted a resolution asking Congress to "require diverted acreage to be put into soil conserving practices."

Officers Chosen At St. Andrew's

Church Lists Events For Lenten Season

The parishioners of St. Andrew's Episcopal Church are entering the Lenten season with new parish officers.

Felix S. Halliday was elected senior warden at the church's parish meeting with Robert Brubaker serving as junior warden.

Elected to three-year terms on vestry were Mrs. Richard Willis, Willard Story and Otis Core. Harford Hankins, Jr., was elected to a one-year term on the vestry.

Previously elected vestrymen include Glenn Tatman, Earl Miller, Eugene Bach, Robert Lisk and Mrs. Donald Lange.

Delegates to the diocesan convention will be Mr. and Mrs. Harford Hankins, Jr. and Mrs. Robert Brubaker. Alternates are Mr. and Mrs. Harford Hankins, Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Tatman and Mr. and Mrs. Felix Halliday.

SPECIAL LENTEN services have been scheduled for each of the next three Sunday worship and church school services.

Other special events during the next three weeks include the World Day of Prayer union services, to be held at the church at 2 P. M. Friday. (Other services marking World Day of Prayer are also to be held in Bloomingburg and Jeffersonville.)

At 6 P. M. Friday, a dinner for the League of Women Voters is scheduled, and another dinner on Feb. 21 will honor the Dayton Boys Choir.

On Feb. 24, a children's style show is scheduled for 7:30 P. M. The Altar Guild is to meet Feb. 29 at 2 P. M.

A meeting of teachers in the church school is on the calendar for March 5 at 7:30 P. M., with a vestry meeting scheduled for the same time the following night, March 6.

Regular events include the meetings of the Girls of St. Andrew's every Monday, the Junior Guild every Tuesday, the acolytes every Thursday afternoon and the choir every Thursday evening.

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Det. Lt. Walt Turner listened patiently for 10 minutes on the telephone while a woman caller told him she was being followed.

"I believe the police are following me with radar everywhere I go," the woman said. "I can feel the radar waves in the air being beamed at me."

"Have you seen your doctor lately, Mam?" asked Turner.

"Yes," she said, "and he doesn't believe a word I say. Can you imagine that?"

Holmes County Merges Offices

COLUMBUS (AP)—Holmes County in north-central Ohio has become the state's first county to consolidate administration of all its public assistance programs into a single unit.

The consolidation means a single office will handle poor relief and aid for the aged, the blind, dependent children and the permanently and totally disabled.

Such consolidations are permitted by a law passed by the Legislature last year. The law provides for agreement between the state welfare director and boards of county commissioners.

Liquor Ad Ban Gets Support

WASHINGTON (AP)—Several hundred church workers have flocked to the capital in support of a proposal to outlaw interstate advertising of alcoholic beverages.

They filled the caucus room of the Senate Office Building the largest hearing room, and lined corridors outside.

Letter-Writing To Judges Gets Cool Reception

Ohio Supreme Court
Members Receiving Unwanted Messages

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Most judges take a dim view of letter writers who tell them how to decide cases in their courts.

Members of the Ohio Supreme Court are no exception.

High court judges recently received nearly 50 letters and telegrams about a case up for oral arguments by both sides before a decision.

The case concerned an appeal from refusal of the state liquor department to issue a new license for sale of whisky by the glass. Involved was the question of whether the state could continue its "freeze" on new permits.

Ohio established the "freeze" in 1949. Because permits were based on population in wet areas, attorneys contended that communities with large gains should be allowed more tavern and club licenses.

They claimed the "freeze" enforced prohibition on growing towns whether residents wanted it or not.

All the communications to the court urged a decision to maintain the "freeze."

The court has not indicated when it would decide the case but Chief Justice Carl V. Weygant had this to say about the communications: "Many people seem unimpressed by the clear distinction between the legislative and judicial processes."

"Most questions of policy are determined by our national and state legislatures. The members of these legislatures are expected to represent their constituents and reflect their views. Hence, it is proper and helpful for people to express their ideas to their legislators on these questions of policy."

"However, the courts are without authority to decide questions of legislative policy. Instead, the courts determine questions of law. Statutory law is accepted by the legislatures."

"The duty of the courts is to determine the validity of the law and then interpret and apply it. Hence, the courts are not permitted to concern themselves with the popularity or unpopularity of a valid statute."

"If a change is desired, this can be accomplished through the Legislature alone."

In contrast to judges, members of the Legislature usually delight in receiving expressions of opinion from voters. The law-makers often say that bona fide "fan" mail helps them decide whether to support or vote against some proposals.

That is why they say it is a good thing for voters to tell their elected representatives how they feel about changing various laws.

During debate on difficult legislation, law-makers often warn against hasty action. At such times they remind fellow legislators that the courts will interpret the law as it is enacted, regardless of what sponsors intended the changes to accomplish.

Attorneys, who termed it improper to try to influence court decisions, said letter writers probably would not invite contempt of action unless they were litigants in cases at bar.

Letter writing, they explained, should be done before laws are enacted. It is too late, they add, when a dispute over interpretation of a law reaches the courts.

Ike Asked To Set School Aid Curbs

WASHINGTON (AP)—Eight House Democrats have asked President Eisenhower to declare he would not allocate federal funds to any public school system defying the Supreme Court ruling against segregation of pupils.

Such a declaration, they wrote, would make unnecessary a proposed anti-segregation amendment to a bill to provide $1.6 billion in federal construction funds to help the states relieve over-crowded public school systems.

The letter was signed by Reps. Ashley (Ohio), Boyle (Ill.), Clark (Pa.), Quigley (Pa.), Edith Green (Ore.), Hayworth (Mich.), Reuss (Wis.) and Rhodes (Pa.).

Vegetable Growers Oppose Supports

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Ohio Vegetable and Potato Growers Assn. opposes price supports or subsidies in its field.

It also went on record as against diverted farm acreage being put into crops which do not have quotas, such as vegetables and expressed opposition to irrigation projects.

The association's annual meeting adopted a resolution asking Congress to "require diverted acreage to be put into soil conserving practices."

Officers Chosen At St. Andrew's

Church Lists Events
For Lenten Season

The parishioners of St. Andrew's Episcopal Church are entering the Lenten season with new parish officers.

Felix S. Halliday was elected senior warden at the church's parish meeting with Robert Brubaker serving as junior warden.

Elected to three-year terms on vestry were Mrs. Richard Willis, Willard Story and Otis Core. Harford Hankins, Jr., was elected to a one-year term on the vestry.

Previously elected vestrymen include Glenn Tatman, Earl Miller, Eugene Bach, Robert Lisk and Mrs. Donald Lange.

Delegates to the diocesan convention will be Mr. and Mrs. Harford Hankins, Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brubaker. Alternates are Mr. and Mrs. Harford Hankins, Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Tatman and Mr. and Mrs. Felix Halliday.

SPECIAL LENTEN services have been scheduled for each of the next three Sunday worship and church school services.

Other special events during the next three weeks include the World Day of Prayer union services, to be held at the church at 2 P. M. Friday. (Other services marking World Day of Prayer are also to be held in Bloomingburg and Jeffersonville.)

At 6 P. M. Friday, a dinner for the League of Women Voters is scheduled, and another dinner on Feb. 21 will honor the Dayton Boys Choir.

On Feb. 24, a children's style

show is scheduled for 7:30 P. M. The Altar Guild is to meet Feb. 29 at 2 P. M.

A meeting of teachers in the church school is on the calendar for March 5 at 7:30 P. M., with a vestry meeting scheduled for the same time the following night, March 6.

Regular events include the meetings of the Girls of St. Andrew's every Monday, the Junior Guild every Tuesday, the acolytes every Thursday afternoon and the choir every Thursday evening.

Somebody Needs To See Psychiatrist

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Det. Lt. Walt Turner listened patiently for 10 minutes on the telephone while a woman caller told him she was being followed.

"I believe the police are following me with radar everywhere I go," the woman said. "I can feel the radar waves in the air being beamed at me."

"Have you seen your doctor lately, Mam?" asked Turner.

"Yes," she said, "and he doesn't believe a word I say. Can you imagine that?"

Holmes County Merges Offices

COLUMBUS (AP)—Holmes County in north-central Ohio has become the state's first county to consolidate administration of all its public assistance programs into a single unit.

The consolidation means a single office will handle poor relief and aid for the aged, the blind, dependent children and the permanently and totally disabled.

Such consolidations are permitted by a law passed by the Legislature last year. The law provides for agreement between the state welfare director and boards of county commissioners.

Liquor Ad Ban Gets Support

WASHINGTON (AP)—Several hundred church workers have flocked to the capital in support of a proposal to outlaw interstate advertising of alcoholic beverages.

They filled the caucus room of the Senate Office Building the largest hearing room, and lined corridors outside.

Sen. Langer (R-ND) is author of a bill to prohibit interstate trans-

Court Delaying Test On Photos

COLUMBUS (AP)—The Ohio Supreme Court has postponed until September consideration of a newspaper request for an opportunity to demonstrate improved techniques in courtroom photography.

Chief Justice Carl V. Weygant explained the court wants to wait until a committee of the American Bar Assn. makes its report in August on whether any or all of the association's canons should be amended or modified. Canon 35 now bans courtroom photographs.

The study committee's report will be made to the annual meeting of the association.

Lt. Gov. Brown Explains Errors In Campaign Data

CLEVELAND (P)—The Cleveland News says that it has discovered erroneous education claims in the campaign literature of Lt. Gov. John W. Brown, now a candidate for the Republican gubernatorial nomination.

Brown, reached for comment, admitted there were errors in the statements that he "studied at Ohio University and attended Cleveland College and Akron Law School."

But he declared the errors were "slight."

His claims of attendance at institutions of higher learning are in a piece of literature giving the "Biography of John W. Brown." In it are statements that the Medina, Ohio, Republican was "educated in public schools in Athens and Fairfield counties; studied at Ohio University and attended Cleveland College and Akron Law School."

The News said a check of registrars' offices at Cleveland College and Ohio University failed to indicate Brown ever attended either institution.

Brown gave this explanation: He attended Cleveland College one night a week for six weeks while he was in the armed forces. He took out a correspondence course at Ohio University but "never got to it" and sent the course back to the university. He attended Akron Law School for a semester until the dean of the school discovered he lacked the college credits necessary to enter law school.

The Akron Law School refused to divulge any information with out Brown's permission, but Brown said Dean O. S. Hunsicker of the school "will swear I went there."

Brown was asked whether he would withdraw any of the campaign pamphlets from publication. He replied he was "not sure I could afford to."

Referring to his claim of attendance at Cleveland College Brown said that "some time in 1943 when I was a Coast Guardsman stationed in Cleveland, we were offered a course for security enforcement."

"You know, one of those night things. . . . We studied psychology and things."

He said he might have attended that course "one night a week for six weeks."

When he was discharged from the Coast Guard, he said, "I went to see the boys at Akron Law School and was enrolled as a GI student."

After a semester, the dean came to see me and said the Veterans Administration was not satisfied that I had enough credits to be finally acceptable to the Ohio Supreme Court to practice law.

The dean asked me if I wanted to get the proper credits and come back."

Brown said he then went to Ohio University "and enrolled in an extension (correspondence) course."

Now here there is an error perhaps typographical. . . . because I never got around to doing anything with the course. So I kept it 90 days and sent it back."

He's Got Plenty Of Campaign Time

TAMPA, Fla. (P)—A lawyer here finds he has been running for an office which won't be vacant for two years. George P. Raney announced last week he would be a candidate for state Democratic executive committeeman from Hillsborough County.

Checking elections laws later, he discovered committeemen now are elected for four years and the term of incumbent C. J. Hardee Jr. has until 1958 to run. Until 1942 the term was two years.

Raney said his announcement still holds good—it will just give him a little longer to get his campaign organized.

Deputy 'Plastered' In Courthouse

RICHMOND, Ky. (P)—Deputy Sheriff Claude Williams thought he was being attacked by a prisoner, but actually he was just getting "plastered." He received a hard blow on the head while conducting a group of prisoners through the courthouse enroute to the jail. He was hit by falling plaster but escaped injury.

His Wooing Said To Be Too Ardent

CHICAGO (P)—Frank Saye, 38, was accused by his divorced wife Rose, 36, of being too ardent in attempting to woo her back. She told Judge Joseph A. Pope.

She said Saye, a truck driver, had telephoned her 343 times in the last month. Last Saturday, she said, he telephoned her 67 times in attempting to effect a reconciliation. She said she doesn't want him back.

Death Rate In February High

Study Reveals Some Interesting Data

The month of February usually averages about 11 accidental deaths a day, J. W. Dykes, President of the Ohio State Safety Council said. While the month of February has about the worst weather of any time of the year, the weather is not a significant factor in the majority of the accidents that are suffered.

Motor vehicle deaths will exceed those in the home by a small margin and those occurring in public places which do not involve a motor vehicle run far behind as a poor third.

Two-thirds of the motor vehicle fatalities will occur in rural areas, if the customary pattern is followed, with collisions between motor vehicles, pedestrians, collisions with the fixed objects and non-collisions and railroad crossing accidents following in that order.

A study in New Jersey revealed that 80 percent of the violators brought into court were acquainted with the proper methods of handling the vehicle; were familiar with the requirements of traffic law. This seems to bear out the statement of experts that some law violation is present in 90 percent of the motor vehicle collisions.

A study of these violations indicates that the most prominent one is excessive speed. In over half of these cases the vehicle has been going above the statutory speed limit. The others, while the speed was within the prescribed limits, the vehicle was still traveling too fast for the conditions of roadway, traffic or visibility. Speed is also a factor in the collisions with fixed objects and those accidents where no collision was involved.

During the recent holiday period a substantial number of the accidents reported involved but one car. This indicates that the driver did not have sufficient control of his vehicle to keep it on the highway or otherwise out of trouble.

The pedestrian injuries which result in fatalities occur usually in the urban areas, although a third of them will be in the open country. Usually the country pedestrian meets his mishap by walking in the roadway with the direction of travel. However, in the towns the pedestrian walks into trouble by crossing the street in the middle of the block or at intersections where no signal or stop sign is available for traffic control.

Future Soldiers To Carry A-Bombs

ROCK ISLAND, Ill. (AP)—The commanding general of Rock Island Arsenal says doughboys of the future will be equipped with grapefruit-size atomic bombs with 200 times the power of World War II blockbusters.

Brig Gen. T. A. Weyher said the battlefield of the future will employ "terrifying nuclear weapons," including artillery pieces capable of firing a shell a second.

He forecast atomic bombs the size of grapefruit, which he said will be fitted to a small rocket as warheads. Three or four of these baby rockets could easily be carried in a jeep, he said.

Oil, Gas Deposit Tax Formula Set

COLUMBUS (AP)—The State Board of Tax Appeals has adopted a uniform rule for valuing oil and gas deposits in Ohio for taxation purposes.

County auditors in a meeting Jan. 31 agreed on a method of assessing oil and natural gas properties, assigning different values to different grades of oil.

It was agreed that the operating value of wells producing small amounts of oil would be set by county auditors on the actual value. An evaluation table was set up for the more productive wells.

(City School Superintendent)

"The Colonial Period of history has become more meaningful to Mrs. Giebelhouse's fifth graders at Central School. Mr. John Leland, the father of Jerry Leland who is a member of the fifth grade, showed the class movies and slides which the family had taken recently."

Many of the pictures were taken in Williamsburg, Virginia. This city was the capital of the colony of Virginia from 1699 to 1780 and played a great part in the movement for independence.

About one-half of this historic city, which is 56 miles east of Richmond, has been restored to its Eighteenth Century appearance.

More than 400 colonial homes, taverns, shops, and public buildings now look just as they did to the early colonists. Eight of these buildings are open to the public, and guides dressed in colonial attire explain the historical significance of each.

Mr. Leland showed the reconstructed colonial capitol where the House of Burgesses met, the Governor's Palace, the Raleigh Tavern, the George Wythe House, and the Christopher Wren building of the College of William and Mary, which is the second oldest college in the United States.

The Central boys and girls were very much impressed by the fine furnishings in these buildings which, of course, had been brought from England.

Recently, Mr. Ray Brandenburg took the class on an imaginary trip through the West with his movies which he had taken a few years ago.

The children saw the giant wheat fields of Kansas, a dude ranch in Colorado, trout fishing in the Rocky Mountain streams, Pike's Peak, the wonders of Yellowstone National Park, and the Grand Teton Mountains. They saw a forest ranger's cabin and learned of

Buddy Adler Tries To Fill Shoes Of Film Giant Zanuck

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Meet Buddy Adler, the personable, handsome movie maker who is filling the shoes of the film giant, Darryl Zanuck.

Last week it was announced that Zanuck was stepping out of his post as production chief at 20th Century-Fox and Adler was filling in for four months. There's no official word on what will happen after that, but trade sources say that to increase his take home pay Zanuck will go into independent production. He will be taxed only 25 per cent on profits from independent films, whereas his studio salary puts him in the 90 per cent bracket.

At any rate, Adler takes over the reins of the gigantic studio with apparent ease. His present concern is for the four months of his announced tenancy. After that—who knows?

Adler operates smoothly and with little of the histrionics that are associated with film producers. His formula?

"Luck plays a big part," he remarked. "Luck and the ability to take a chance."

His biggest chance was the making of him as a top-rank producer. That was "From Here to Eternity."

some of his work. Mr. Brandenburg also showed some fine herds of cattle which are produced in our western states.

Many producers had been interested in the James Jones novel since it first became a best-seller. But it was filled with sex, four letter words and digs at the Army! Movie men couldn't see how the story could be whipped into shape to win both Army and Johnston office approval.

Adler, who served four years in the Army during the war, felt it could be done. First, he brought out novelist Jones to work on the script—"but he didn't seem to understand the censorship problems we have in the movies."

Dan Taradash was hired for the scripting job. He managed the impossible by producing a script that pleased the censors, the Army (co operation was needed for barracks scenes) and movie goers, too.

Granges Denied Tax Exemptions

COLUMBUS (AP)—The Ohio Board of Tax Appeals has turned down applications of two Granges in Belmont County for exemption from real estate taxes.

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—Heirs of Mrs. E. Mary Stevenson stand to gain because this city has no mistreated horses on its streets. Her 1953 will left much of her estate for care of such horses.

She proposed hiring an agent to work on the streets aiding "mistreated horses allowed to be overworked and mistreated." But Judge Joseph Bradley ruled that since no such condition exists that portion of the estate, about $55,000, should go to heirs.

U. S. Air Officer Killed In 'Error'

CASABLANCA, French Morocco (AP)—French officials say the first American victim of the strife between Moroccan nationalists and colonial authorities was killed by mistake by a Moroccan policeman. U. S. Air Force Capt. Nelson Brown, 42, was shot to death Monday night when he stopped his car behind another vehicle on the road from Casablanca to the U. S. Strategic Air Command Base.

French sources said a Moroccan policeman searching for terrorist suspects opened fire and Brown died from a shot in the head.

WHS Football Cost $8,751 But Season Ends $300 Ahead

Although $9,051.93 was taken during the last Washington C. H. High School football season, only $300.62 was left after expenses amounting to $8,751.31 had been paid.

This was disclosed by the comprehensive and detailed report on the gridiron sport filed by Clyde Cramer, the faculty athletic manager, with the WHS Athletic Association.

Cramer commented that he wanted to get every small item of expense listed in his report "just so the people will know where the money goes." The report left no doubt in the minds of the Athletic Association board, no matter how careful and economical the management, even high school football is expensive.

But, as has often been emphasized, interscholastic sports are for development of body and character and not for profit.

Most of the money, of course, came from the sale of tickets— from the advance sale of season tickets (reserved seats) $3.69 and from sales at the gate $3,289.50.

There were only five other sources of income—student tickets $876.95, program advertising $533.23, program sales $318.14, guarantees received from out-of-town games $250 and contributions (for insurance) $83.11.

While the sources of income are few, the expenses were both many and varied and all of them were noted in Cramer's detailed report.

Equipment took the lion's share of the money; it all added up to $1,827.52. This included $1,404.67 for new equipment such as jerseys, shoes, balls and socks, laundry $223.90, repair $170.25 and shipping cost (for new equipment) $28.70.

Medical supplies cost $167.82, insurance $536.25, printing of programs and tickets $721.89 and scouting other teams $65.

The city amusement tax amounted to $209.34, SCO League dues to $20, flowers for the homecoming celebration to $40.47, the band's share of the income $715.64, FHA program sales $67.40 and trophies (schools pay for championship trophies won by their teams) $99.75. Although these were all listed among the miscellaneous expenses they added up to $1,313.90.

Other incidental expenses (mostly for equipment) such as for field house, work on sled and dummies, sprayer for team, equipment hangers, kick tee, lumber (and sled), bulb projector and chart of graph came to $205.89.

Guarantees to visiting teams (for expenses etc.) and fees for officials totaled $1,134; movies for all the games cost $501.27; maintenance of the field, including materials and labor, amounted to $788.93; teachers received $252 for their work at games; meals for the squad (game days) $212.30; travel $384.09; police $180 and public address system rental $150.

The report carries a breakdown of the income and expenses for the six home games.

The Wilmington game on Oct. 21 was the most profitable. For it, the income was $1,742 and the expenses amounted to $544 which left a net of $1,198.

Second best net return was the $999 from the Grandview game which had an income of $1,563 and expenses of $564.

The Hillsboro game was not far behind with income of $1,401 and expenses of $494 for a net of $907.

Receipts from the St. Charles game were next to the highest, but the expenses for it and the Southeastern game also were the highest.

For the St. Charles game, $1,574 was taken in but expenses amounted to $764, leaving a net of $810.

Receipts for the Southeastern game were $1,191 and with expenses of $746, this game's net of $427 was the smallest of the season's home games.

Receipts for the opening game with Xenia's Buccaneers were $1,248 and, with expenses of $514, the net return was $734.

The biggest expense of the St. Charles and Southeastern games was the $300 guarantee. This was because these schools are outside the SCO League and not regulars on the schedule.

The guarantee for the Xenia game was only $50 and for the Grandview game it was only $100; these are schools whose athletic teams play the Lions on a more or less regular basis, an arrangement somewhat akin to the home-and-home agreement within the SCO League.

Since the members of the league play each other team at home one year and away the next year, the guarantee is a mere token of $30—Washington C. H. handed the Wilmington and Hillsboro Athletic Associations $30 apiece when their teams played here last fall and next fall they will get $30 from each of them when the Lions play at Wilmington and Hillsboro.

The same arrangement is followed out with the Circleville and Wilmington schools.

Along with the report on last season's business, Cramer prepared a complete inventory of all the WHS Athletic Association's football equipment for the Varsity, the Reserve and Junior squads. It took in not only all the field equipment, but also the uniforms and protective paraphernalia for games and practice. The inventory also notes the condition of the equipment.

The game equipment (uniforms) was valued at $874; practice $2,163.80; protective $2,529; Juniors $2,343 and $1,654. All that amounts to $9,563.80.

Some of the equipment was labeled very poor, but most of it was described as fair or good, although much of it was rated as poor.

A budget for next year, was submitted along with the financial report and the inventory. Prepared by Head Coach Fred Domenico, it calls for expenditures of $8,788.85. Most of the expenses noted in the budget parallel very closely those of the past season. The biggest slice of it, $3,112.30, would go for new equipment. Reconditioning of old equipment would cost $599.

New equipment listed for purchase for next season were complete new game uniforms for three full teams.

The plan calls for a shift to all gray pants which would be worn with the white jerseys in home games and blue jerseys on games away from home. That would mean 33 white jerseys for $555.40 with 33 blue jerseys for $555.40 with 33 pairs of socks to match each set of jerseys for $174.90, 33 pairs of gray pants for $724.35.

When the new uniforms arrive, the present game uniforms (some are pretty well tattered and faded) will be used for practice and the Varsity practice uniforms will be handed over the Reserve squad.

Three Fayette Boys Complete Training

Vergil L. Toppins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Toppins, Route 1, Jeffersonville; Roy D. Rowe, son of Mr. and Mrs. George R. Rowe, Route 4, and Robert M. Decker, son of Mrs. Alice I. Decker, 426 East Temple Street, Washington C. H., have completed recruit training at the Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, Ill.

The nine-weeks of "boot camp" included drill and instruction in seamanship, gunnery, life saving, sea survival, boat handling, and the use of small arms.

Following two weeks leave, graduates are assigned to shipboard duties or service schools depending on the qualifications each has demonstrated during the training period.

Forms Complete For New Building

Work of building forms for the foundation walls of the city's new building at the north end of Fayette Street, has been completed, and as soon as the weather permits the cement foundation will be poured.

When the cement foundation is poured and cured, work of erecting the new pre-fabricated metal building will get under way. The building will house the city's street equipment and some of the sewage disposal plant equipment.

WHS Football Cost $8,751 But Season Ends $300 Ahead

Although $9,051.93 was taken during the last Washington C. H. High School football season, only $300.62 was left after expenses amounting to $8,751.31 had been paid.

This was disclosed by the comprehensive and detailed report on the gridiron sport filed by Clyde Cramer, the faculty athletic manager, with the WHS Athletic Association.

Cramer commented that he wanted to get every small item of expense listed in his report "just so the people will know where the money goes." The report left no doubt in the minds of the Athletic Association board, no matter how careful and economical the management, even high school football is expensive.

But, as has often been emphasized, interscholastic sports are for development of body and character and not for profit.

Most of the money, of course, came from the sale of tickets—from the advance sale of season tickets (reserved seats) $3.69 and from sales at the gate $3,289.50.

There were only five other sources of income—student tickets $876.95, program advertising $535.23, program sales $318.14, guarantees received from out-of-town games $250 and contributions (for insurance) $83.11.

While the sources of income are few, the expenses were both many and varied and all of them were noted in Cramer's detailed report.

Equipment took the lion's share of the money; it all added up to $1,827.52. This included $1,404.67 for new equipment such as jerseys, shoes, balls and socks, laundry $223.90, repair $170.25 and shipping cost (for new equipment) $28.70.

Medical supplies cost $167.82, insurance $536.25, printing of programs and tickets $721.89 and scouting other teams $65.

The city amusement tax amounted to $209.34, SCO League dues to $20, flowers for the homecoming celebration to $40.47, the band's share of the income $715.64, FHA program sales $67.40 and trophies (schools pay for championship trophies won by their teams) $99.75. Although these were all listed among the miscellaneous expenses they added up to $1,313.90.

Other incidental expenses (mostly for equipment) such as for field house, work on sled and dummies, sprayer for team, equipment handgears, kick tee, lumber (and sled), bulb projector and chart of graph came to $205.89.

Guarantees to visiting teams (for expenses etc.) and fees for officials totaled $1,134; movies for all the games cost $501.27; maintenance of the field, including materials and labor, amounted to $788.93; teachers received $252 for their work at games; meals for the squad (game days) $212.30; travel $384.09; police $180 and public address system rental $150.

The report carries a breakdown of the income and expenses for the six home games.

The Wilmington game on Oct. 21 was the most profitable. For it, the income was $1,742 and the expenses amounted to $544 which left a net of $1,198.

Second best net return was the $999 from the Grandview game which had an income of $1,563 and expenses of $564.

The Hillsboro game was not far behind with income of $1,401 and expenses of $494 for a net of $907. Receipts from the St. Charles game were next to the highest, but the expenses for it and the Southeastern game also were the highest.

For the St. Charles game, $1,574 was taken in but expenses amounted to $764, leaving a net of $810.

Receipts for the Southeastern game were $1,191 and with expenses of $746, this game's net of $427 was the smallest of the season's home games.

Receipts for the opening game with Xenia's Buccaneers were $1,248 and, with expenses of $514, the net return was $734.

The BIGGEST expense of the St. Charles and Southeastern games was the $300 guarantee. This was because these schools are outside the SCO League and not regulars on the schedule.

The guarantee for the Xenia game was only $50 and for the Grandview game it was only $100; these are schools whose athletic teams play the Lions on a more or less regular basis, an arrangement somewhat akin to the home-and-home agreement within the SCO League.

Since the members of the league play each other team at home one year and away the next year, the guarantee is a mere token of $30—Washington C. H. handed the Wilmington and Hillsboro Athletic Associations $30 apiece when their teams played here last fall and next fall they will get $30 from each of them when the Lions play at Wilmington and Hillsboro.

The same arrangement is followed out with the Circleville and Wilmington schools.

Along with the report on last season's business, Cramer prepared a complete inventory of all the WHS Athletic Association's football equipment for the Varsity, the Reserve and Junior squads. It took in not only all the field equipment, but also the uniforms and protective paraphernalia for games and practice. The inventory also notes the condition of the equipment.

The game equipment (uniforms) was valued at $874; practice $2,163.80; protective $2,529; Juniors $2,343 and $1,654. All that amounts to $9,563.80.

Some of the equipment was labeled very poor, but most of it was described as fair or good, although much of it was rated as poor.

A BUDGET for next year, was submitted along with the financial report and the inventory. Prepared by Head Coach Fred Domenico, it calls for expenditures of $8,788.85. Most of the expenses noted in the budget parallel very closely those of the past season. The biggest slice of it, $3,112.30, would go for new equipment. Reconditioning of old equipment would cost $599.

New equipment listed for purchase for next season were complete new game uniforms for three full teams.

The plan calls for a shift to all gray pants which would be worn with the white jerseys in home games and blue jerseys on games away from home. That would mean 33 white jerseys for $555.40 33 blue jerseys for $555.40 with 33 pairs of socks to match each set of jerseys for $174.90, 33 pairs of gray pants for $724.35.

When the new uniforms arrive, the present game uniforms (some are pretty well tattered and faded) will be used for practice and the Varsity practice uniforms will be handed over the Reserve squad.

U. S. Business Awaiting Ike's Final Decision

Money Managers Sit
Tight; Financial Plans
Seen Due For Change

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Business and the money managers—like every one else—are waiting to see what will happen when President Eisenhower announces his second term plans.

The decision might affect some business planning and some financial thinking. It might tilt the economy a little from its present delicately balanced position, in either direction, depending on whether he says he will or won't run.

And Wall Street figures that the money managers aren't likely to move until they see what the President's announcement does, if anything, to business psychology.

Right now there are signs that credit is getting a little easier again. The Federal Reserve Board has made no new move to tighten it up. At the same time, there are signs that business may be about ready to turn downward.

And, again, the Federal Reserve Board is making no move to help loosen up credit, as a stimulant.

Like the stock market, the money managers appear to be marking time while the President thinks

over the doctors' reports.

Mortgage money is becoming more plentiful, the Federal Housing Administration reports. That market tightened up last fall and new home building fell off. Builders say they're finding money easier to come by now, and some expect building to pick up pleasantly when the weather improves.

The construction industry—which covers all building, including homes—looks for a new record this year. H. E. Forman, managing director of the Associated General Contractors of America, meeting here, predicts spending on new building will reach 44½ billion dollars, a gain of more than 2 billion over last year. He thinks spending for maintenance and repairs will also rise.

But predictions for business in general aren't uniformly so optimistic. The layoffs in the auto industry have given some optimists pause.

If the revival in home building and auto production doesn't come along shortly, as some expect, business will get nervous. And if the consumers start to save more and spend less, a turnaround from the present high peak of prosperity might follow—with the extent of the turnaround the thing that worries all forecasters, in and out of government.

This is the situation which the money managers are watching now. Earlier they feared the trend toward easier installment credit and mortgage terms might set off a new round of inflation. Now that the trend has halted, and the economy in general is balanced, the Federal Reserve Board's fears along that line are ended.

But the Reserve Board's chairman, William McChesney Martin, points out that sometimes it's hard to know which way the wind is blowing. Referring to the board's policy of "leaning against the wind," whether it be the wind of inflation or of deflation.

In the present becalmed state of money management, the President's decision might start up one wind or the other.

There's some speculation that business might react to an "I'll run" with another spurt forward, reviving the Federal Reserve Board's old inflation fears. "I won't" might add considerably to the uncertainties now besetting both politicians and businessmen. Some even think the President's decision will have a marked effect on consumer psychology.

U. S. Business Awaiting Ike's Final Decision

Money Managers Sit
Tight; Financial Plans
Seen Due For Change

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (AP)—Business and the money managers—like everyone else—are waiting to see what will happen when President Eisenhower announces his second term plans.

The decision might affect some business planning and some financial thinking. It might tilt the economy a little from its present delicately balanced position, in either direction, depending on whether he says he will or won't run.

And Wall Street figures that the money managers aren't likely to move until they see what the President's announcement does, if anything, to business psychology.

Right now there are signs that credit is getting a little easier again. The Federal Reserve Board has made no new move to tighten it up. At the same time, there are signs that business may be about ready to turn downward.

And, again, the Federal Reserve Board is making no move to help loosen up credit, as a stimulant.

Like the stock market, the money managers appear to be marking time while the President thinks

over the doctors' reports.

Mortgage money is becoming more plentiful, the Federal Housing Administration reports. That market tightened up last fall and new home building fell off. Builders say they're finding money easier to come by now, and some expect building to pick up pleasantly when the weather improves.

The construction industry—which covers all building, including homes—looks for a new record this year. H. E. Forman, managing director of the Associated General Contractors of America, meeting here, predicts spending on new building will reach 44½ billion dollars, a gain of more than 2 billion over last year. He thinks spending for maintenance and repairs will also rise.

But predictions for business in general aren't uniformly that optimistic. The layoffs in the auto industry have given some optimists pause.

If the revival in home building

and auto production doesn't come along shortly, as some expect, business will get nervous. And if the consumers start to save more and spend less, a turnaround from the present high peak of prosperity might follow—with the extent of the turnaround the thing that worries all forecasters, in and out of government.

This is the situation which the money managers are watching now. Earlier they feared the trend toward easier installment credit and mortgage terms might set off a new round of inflation. Now that the trend has halted, and the economy in general is balanced, the Federal Reserve Board's fears along that line are ended.

But the Reserve Board's chairman, William McChesney Martin, points out that sometimes it's hard to know which way the wind is blowing. Referring to the board's policy of "leaning against the wind," whether it be the wind of inflation or of deflation.

In the present becalmed state of money management, the President's decision might start up one wind or the other.

There's some speculation that business might react to an "I'll run" with another spurt forward, reviving the Federal Reserve Board's old inflation fears. "I won't" might add considerably to the uncertainties now besetting both politicians and businessmen. Some even think the President's decision will have a marked effect on consumer psychology.

State Board Of Education Studies $7 Million Fund Use

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The state board of education meets today to start work on the standards for allocating seven million dollars for more classrooms in needy school districts.

The seven millions was appropriated by the special session of the Ohio Legislature last month. Board members also will study the use of an additional $100,000 in the establishment of a research division in the education department.

Members will inspect the state schools for the deaf and the blind during the course of today's activities.

The board last night took steps toward setting minimum elementary standards for public, private and parochial schools.

This action followed receipt of letters from at least two school districts expressing concern about Amish schools there.

The board asked the state division of elementary and secondary education to prepare a recommended set of standards. The board, empowered by law to set the standards, will review them upon completion.

Attorney members of the board said standards set by the education department in 1949 are believed to have expired Jan. 3 when the new state board of education came into being.

The Ohio Assn. of Junior Colleges requested that the board provide for accreditation of Ohio colleges and universities by the education department. The association said it "believes its member institutions are handicapped by the state department of education."

The board referred the group's request to the division of certification.

An invitation to the board to join the Ohio State School Boards Assn. was declined. The board suggested to the association that future state conferences of the Ohio White House Conference Committee on Education be sponsored by the board.

There was some discussion by board members of consolidating 13 divisions of the education department into "perhaps four or five."

This action would be taken after department organization is completed. Civil Service status of some division heads provides the stumbling block, members said.

Ex-Federal Official Tells Of Government Commie Cell

WASHINGTON (AP)—A recently-resigned Civil Aeronautics Board official has told congressional investigators he worked in secret Communist cells in the government during pre-World War II days.

James E. Gorham, who said he resigned as chief of the CAB's routes division last Sept. 30, testified freely about past Red activities under questioning by the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

Gorham said he was a Communist party member from May 1934 until late 1941 or early 1942.

Most of that time, Gorham said, he held federal jobs — including a 1935-38 stretch with the Senate Commerce Committee during which he was on the staff as a railroad finances investigating subcommittee headed by then-Sen. Harry S. Truman of Missouri.

The full Senate committee was headed at that time by then Sen. Burton K. Wheeler (D-Mont).

Gorham named Herbert Fuchs as head of the Senate Committee Communist cell. Fuchs told the House investigators last year about his activities.

The 44-year-old Gorham named more than 20 persons he said he had known as Communists during his days on Red activity. And he listed a string of federal agencies in connection with his recital of Communist activities.

Gorham said he engaged in Communist cell activities with the federal emergency relief agencies in New York City in 1934, with the railroad retirement board in 1935, with the Works Progress Administration in 1935, with the Wheeler committee, and with the Securities & Exchange Commission until he quit the party.

Gorham also said he knew of Communists at the time in the Labor Department, in the National Recovery Administration, the Interstate Commerce Commission and the Agricultural Adjustment Administration.

Gorham was the first witness at the opening here of what the committee called "full scale hearings on Communist infiltration of the government" in the past.

Dayton Flyers Chalk Up Their 19th Victory

Memphis State Falls. Pesky Louisville '5' Due In Test Friday

(By The Associated Press) The University of Dayton appeared headed today for one of its best basketball seasons ever. The highly-touted, second-ranked Flyers polished off victory No. 19 in flashy style last night, disposing of tough Memphis State, 85-71. The Flyers, beaten only once, and that one a two-pointer to Louisville in overtime, get an opportunity to even the score against the Cardinals Friday.

Coach Tom Blackburn's boys, overcoming an early eight point deficit, looked sharp in whipping the visiting Tigers who sported a nifty 17-3 mark before the contest. The Flyers, led by their towering 7-0 center, Bill Uhl, caught Memphis with 8:30 to go in the first half. Shortly after the second half ripened Dayton increased its lead to 19 points. Uhl, who scored 18 points, was followed closely by Jim Paxson, Carmen Riazzi, and Arlen Bockhorn who had 16 apiece.

Memphis, ranked 19th, was paced by Forest Arnold's 23 points, but Win Wilfong, who with Arnold had been averaging better than 22 points per game, was held to eight by Bockhorn.

In other action, Toledo outlasted Kent State 99-93 in a Mid-American Conference game. Jim Rayn Toledo star forward, tied a school record with 15 of 15 free throws. He added 10 baskets for 35 points record with 15 of 15 free throws. He added 10 baskets for 35 points. Jim Gorsline was high for Kent with 23.

Denison whipped Heidelberg, 80-77 in an overtime Ohio Conference game. Denison had rallied from a 41-37 halftime deficit to tie the game 70-70 at the end of regulation play. In the overtime Denison's Tommy Davis scored the first six points to insure the victory. Heidelberg's Harry Groman had 25 while Bob Brandand paced Denison with 24.

In Mid - Ohio League action, Bluffton won its first league victory with a 66-62 win over Wilmington. Roger Bixel and George Bailey each had 15 to pace Bluffton.

Youngstown jumped off to a 5-0 lead and then smothered Alliance, Pa., 90-70. Tony Knott was high for Youngstown with 20.

Mount Union recorded its fifth straight victory by trimming Case, 68-57. Case's Joe Garland was the leading scorer with 23.

Steuenville won its 17th in a row as they routed Alderson Broaddus of Philippi, W. Va., 81-47. The victory set a new school record. Paul Brownlee, 6-4 senior forward, pumped in 30 points.

Central States' Phil Payne dropped in two free throws with a second left to help State score a 75-74 victory over Tennessee State.

Souchak Defending Texas Open Crown

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (P) — Big Mike Souchak, the long driver from Grossinger, N. Y., set out today to defend his Texas Open golf championship and the touring professionals thought he had a good chance of doing it.

E. J. (Dutch) Harrison, the tournament veteran from St. Louis, liked Souchak in the run for the $4,000 first money because the Fort Sam Houston course is so open and puts a premium on the long hitter.

But there were favorites aplenty as the field of 159 moved out in the opening round of the $20,000 tournament. Final tuneup rounds yesterday indicated the par 72 course would take a beating.

County Basketball Tournament Opens

(Continued from page one) the tourney. Madison Mills, under suspension by the state Board of Athletic Control for failure to finish a game in the regular season, is not in the showdown series.

The other three schools each have varsity, reserve and junior high entries in the tournament.

THE BIG crowd gasped its way through one of the hottest games of the year as Bloomingburg nipped Good Hope at the wire, 54-45, to win the first Varsity game in the tourney.

No more than half a dozen points separated the teams until, less than five minutes before the end of the game, Bloomingburg launched a blistering attack that took the game out of the nip-and-tuck class for the first time.

Both teams entered the tourney with plenty at stake, though both were underdogs to the third contender, powerful Jeffersonville.

Boyd Given Nod In Lause Brawl

CHICAGO (P)—In a brawl that had the aspects of just about everything—wrestling, football and bull fighting—Long - reaching Bobby Boyd won a split 10-round decision over rugged Eduardo Lause here last night.

Boyd, staggered several times by the Argentine's vicious left hooks, piled up his edge with a harpooning left jab and head work.

In fact, Charlie Johnston, manager of the 28-year-old Lause, inferred after the nationally televised scrap in Chicago Stadium that Boyd used his head so well he butted open an angry gash between Eduardo's eyes.

Statistics Show Why Illini Lead

CHICAGO (P)—If you need any further proof that Illinois deserves to lead the Big Ten basketball race, take a look at the conference's official statistics.

The Illini, unbeaten in eight conference games and ranked third nationally, topped the Big Ten in scoring (93-point average), in field goal percentage (.401) and free throw percentage (.791).

Illinois is third in defensive ranking, yielding 74.1 points per game. Iowa, the Illini's most persistent challenger with a 7-1 mark, is No. 1 on defense, holding opponents to 68. Purdue is second with 70.7.

Clark Rural School Teacher Pay Up

SPRINGFIELD (P)—Teachers in Clark County's six rural schools are due for a pay boost.

Members from each district last night agreed upon a uniform pay scale boosting salaries $300 to $400 yearly. The increases will become effective in the 1956-57 school year if individual boards approve. Salaries will range up to $5,100.

season play, Jeff nosed out Good Hope right at the end of the season after the Wayne boys had paced the league for most of the year.

Good Hope, runnerup for regular season honors, is still in the double-elimination tourney and still has an outside chance to wind up as the tourney winner.

BLOOMINGBURG, winner of the last four county tournaments, can sweep the series if the Bulldogs play the red-hot brand of basketball they displayed during the waning moments of Wednesday's game.

Leading by a scant three points midway through the final period, Bloomingburg started to protect their lead by controlling the ball. But an aggressive Good Hope defense soon stopped that.

Then, suddenly, the Bloomingburg boys started to click on shots from all over the court. Shooting from the corners, dropping in set shots from outside the keyhole, setting up inside shots with impossible passes—Bloomingburg suddenly could do no wrong.

The Wayne defenders, fighting to hold down the sudden scoring spree, began to foul and add to the mounting total. Most of Bloomingburg's 8-point total from foul shooting was piled up in the final moments.

Bloomingburg's big margin came in shooting from the field. The Bulldogs piled up 23 field goals to Wayne's 14, but Wayne almost made up the deficit with its scoring from the free throw ring.

Lester Vincent and Jerry McCoy were the scoring pace-setters for the winners, racking up 14 apiece. Jimmy Taylor was high for the losers—and for the game too—with 16 points.

IN THE curtain-raiser, Good Hope's junior high cagers ran wild to bounce the Jeffersonville juniors out of that tourney, a single-elimination affair.

Final score was 56-10, with Good Hope's Mossbarger showing the way with 19 points and Stillings contributing 13. Bowermaster was high scorer for Jeffersonville with 4.

'Tampering' Definition Is Being Sought

CHICAGO (P)—The executive director of the National Collegiate Athletic Assn. says the NCAA has no rules covering conversations between a player and coach of a different school.

Walter Byers raised the question, "What is the definition of tampering?" when questioned by newsmen here on the "tampering" accusation made by Ohio State University basketball Coach Floyd Stahl against University of Dayton Coach Tom Blackburn.

Stahl made the accusation the day after Blackburn admitted speaking to former Buckeye sophomore reserve center Mike Allen on the Dayton campus. A few days later, Allen transferred to Dayton.

Blackburn denied the tampering allegation, and Dayton threatened to take the matter before the NCAA unless Stahl retracted his statement. An Ohio State official said there would be no apology.

Byers said he has been away from his Kansas City office several days and doesn't know if Dayton filed a protest with the NCAA. He indicated the squabble may be a matter for the ethics committee of the American Basketball Coaches' Assn.

Social Outcast May Trip Nashua

MIAMI, Fla. (P)—If any horse is to beat Nashua in the Widener Handicap Saturday it will be Alfred G. Vanderbilt's Social Outcast, in the opinion of clockers.

Four clockers cast their vote for Vanderbilt's Social Outcast as the one with the best chance of trimming Nashua in his debut as a 4-year-old, while one voted for Brookmeade Stable's Sailor.

Clocker Hal Kiser explained that trainer Bill Winfrey has been sharpening Find, the other Vanderbilt entry, in speed tests in the hope of extending Nashua early and softening up the millionaire horse for Social Outcast's challenge in the stretch.

Adios Colts Set Record For Purses

COLUMBUS — The get of the $500,000 stallion Adios won a record $732,186 in 1955 to top the annual stallion earnings' list compiled by the U. S. Trotting Association.

Adios, who ranked second to Dean Hanover a year ago sent 110 sons and daughters to the races. Eighty-six of that number were winners of 378 dashes.

Adios also topped the two and 3-year-old earnings list with 59 performers banking $389,598. In that category 44 horses sired by him won 176 races.

Adios was purchased by Hanover Shoe Farms for $500,000 in August. He had been owned by Delvin Miller of Meadow Lands, Pa.

The previous single season record for earnings by get of a stallion was $687,451 credited to Volomite in 1953.

Trailing Adios in the over-all money winning column were Darnley with $528,893; Dean Hanover, $511,002; Titan Hanover, $488,769; and Hoot Mon, $480,005. Darnley is owned jointly by Walnut Hall Farm and Walnut Hall Stud, Donegal, Ky., the others by Hanover Shoe Farms.

Rounding out the top five behind Adios in the two and 3-year-old money-winning class were Hoot Mon, $307,239; Titan Hanover, $227,921; Knight Dream, $189,318; and Victory Song, $168,663. Knight Dream stands at Hanover, Victory Song at Castleton Farm, Lexington, Ky.

Warrior Sub Paces Victory

NEW YORK (P)—As if the Philadelphia Warriors weren't getting enough scoring from their starting five, substitute Ernie Beck has come along to give them more punch in their drive to clinch first place in the Eastern Division of the National Basketball Assn.

Beck, former University of Pennsylvania All-America, chipped in with 17 points last night as the Warriors breezed to a 101-78 victory over Fort Wayne. The triumph moved Philadelphia five games in front of the runnerup Boston Celtics.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it: A X Y D L B A A X R is LONGFELLOW

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

PTA Council Sets New Grant

WHS Senior To Get
$250 Scholarship

A $250 scholarship for a 1956 graduate of Washington C. H. High School was set up Wednesday night at a meeting at the high school of the Parent-Teacher Association Council.

The scholarship will be given to one of this year's seniors going on to college and majoring in education.

The scholarship is to be given annually, to a senior selected by the PTA Council Executive Committee from nominations by the high school scholarship committee.

If the student whom the scholarship is awarded decides not to go to college or major in something other than education, another person will be selected for the scholarship.

This scholarship may supplement other grants the student may receive.

The Council members decided to keep the name of the person receiving the scholarship secret until announced at the commencement program.

THE AMOUNT of the scholarship this year was set at $250. But the scholarship cannot be less in any year than the amount received from taking the annual school census.

Until this year, the school census has been taken by the teachers themselves. This year, groups of parents appointed by the PTA president in each school will handle the census task. This will free the teachers from the extra chore and net the PTA Council some extra cash for the new scholarship fund.

The Council also discussed means of giving recognition to students taking part in the safety patrol at city schools. A committee, headed by Earl Miller, was appointed to suggest means of giving recognition this year.

On the committee besides Miller are Leo Whiteside, Hugh Rea, John Leland and Robert Wolfom.

Mrs. Warner Penrod, president of the council, selected a committee to nominate next year's officers. On the committee are Mrs. William Junk, chairman, Mrs. John Boyer, Mrs. Harold Lyons and Mrs. Charles Sheridan.

It was reported that the group now has $277.97 in the treasury. The council will meet again April 5.

Requiem Mass Held For J. H. Pursell

Final Rites Held For John M. Weade

Final services for City Councilman John M. Weade were held 3:30 P. M. Wednesday at the Kirkpatrick Funeral Home here with Rev. Clinton W. Swengel of the Grace Methodist Church conducting services.

Mr. Weade, 73, was elected to the Washington C. H. Council last November. He died 11:30 A. M. Monday at his home, 1035 Washington Avenue, following an illness of three months.

The services Wednesday were very largely attended. Attending in a body headed by City Manager James F. Parkinson were City Council members C. L. Musser, Paul Van Voorhis and Ben Norris. Rev. Swengel read from the Scriptures, offered prayer and paid personal tribute to Mr. Weade.

Active pallbearers were Loren Johnson, Richard Rankin, Seigel Mossbarger, Hugh E. Thompson and Glenn Rodgers.

Honorary pallbearers were Dr. Fred Woolard, Luther King, Willard Everhart, Frank Thatcher, Arch O. Riber, Russell Schnell, A. B. McDonald, Ched Roberts, George O'Brian, Walter B. Thompson and Walter McLean.

Burial was in the family lot in the Sugar Grove Cemetery on Greenfield Road.

Three Arrests Are Made Wednesday

Three arrests were made by the police during Wednesday, and one of them, Dwight Lee Cardiff, city, was for driving while drunk.

Cardiff posted $350 bond for his appearance in municipal court. Roger D. Gorman and William Woodrow, both of this city, were picked up on excessive noise charges, and furnished bond for appearance in court.

Special Counsel Appointed For Baldridge Case

No Additional Names For Jurors Have Been Drawn Yet

Attorney Ray W. Davis has been appointed special counsel to assist Prosecutor John S. Bath in the second degree murder against George Baldridge. It is scheduled for trial beginning Monday, Feb. 27.

It was noted in the entry placed on the records by Judge John P. Case that Davis had volunteered his services and that his appointment was requested by Prosecutor John S. Bath.

Inasmuch as Davis has volunteered his services, the county will not pay him a fee for participating in the case.

So far no additional veniremen have been drawn for prospective jury duty in the Baldridge case. This probably will be done soon, however.

Baldridge is charged with killing Game Protector Irvin J. Patrick while the officer was discharging his duty on the opening day of the hunting season Nov. 15. Baldridge allegedly interfered to prevent him from taking a prisoner into court.

The civil action filed against Baldridge by Mrs. Patrick, in which she asks $150,000 damages for the death of her husband, will be scheduled for hearing some time after the second degree murder case is heard.

Who will represent Baldridge in the criminal case, in addition to E. S. Young, former common pleas judge of Adams County, has not been officially announced.

Cub Pack Arranges Blue & Gold Night

Cub Scout Pack 229 of Cherry Hill School will hold their annual "Blue and Gold" banquet at Grace Methodist Church Feb. 21. The banquet is to be a covered dish supper for the Cubs and their families.

Ivan Kelley will present achievement awards at the dinner, scheduled for 6 P. M. Plans will be made at that time for advance ticket sales to the Scout-O-Rama in Columbus March 17 and 18.

Shepherds Club Here Hears Two Specialists

Ralph Grimshaw, Ohio State University extension animal science specialist and Paul Getz, manager of the Wool Growers Association, spoke to 35 Fayette County sheep men Wednesday evening at a Shepherds Club meeting in the Farm Bureau auditorium.

Grimshaw gave a five-part formula to bring about high labor returns or high returns from ewes.

The points considered were the number of lambs born, amount of milk given per ewe, pounds of wool shorn per ewe, small death loss and job done in marketing lambs and wool.

Grimshaw explained that place and time marketing and quality of the product sold were most important as part of the final point.

The Extension specialist said that most brood ewes should be receiving grain now, the amount depending upon the quality of hay or roughage which the ewes are receiving.

He further explained that the proper ration a month prior to lambing should prevent the lambing paralysis disease.

A program to keep sheep free from internal parasites was given. This program consists of four steps.

In early spring dose all sheep before turning to pasture with phenothiazine drench or pellets. In the summer feed constantly a mixture of one pound of phenothiazine powder and nine pounds of salt in a covered trough. Give no other salt while sheep are on pasture.

Drench all lambs by July 1 with phenothiazine and lead arsenate. At breeding time, drench entire flock with phenothiazine - lead arsenate.

In late fall, after freezing weather sets in, dose with the phenothiazine drench.

Do not withhold feed or water before or after treatment.

Grimshaw said that this worming program was doing a beautiful job in many of the flocks throughout the state.

Getz, in his remarks concerning the Wool Incentive program, said that because of the lower price of wool on the open wool market, mills can now operate at a profit and wool producers can now compete with the synthetic producers to a more favorable extent.

He further stated that wool producers have until April 30 to get their applications for the Incentive Program into the ASC office.

Money for the incentive payment comes from duties on wool imports, he said.

Getz estimated that the national average on wool would be approximately 42 cents per pound for the year of 1955. This would mean approximately 48 percent incentive payment to each sheep man over and above the open market price which already has been paid.

Grimshaw and Getz, in explaining the promotional activities of the American Sheep Producers Council, stated that last year there was 747 million pounds of lamb produced in the United States. Approximately 50 percent or one-half of this lamb was consumed in the eastern section of United States including New England, New York, New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland and Virginia.

The motion of lamb is designed to spread the consumption more equally over the entire country.

An intensive promotional campaign should increase lamb consumption and should be of value to sheep producers here in Fayette County.

G. B. Vance, president of the Shepherds Club, presided over the meeting and introduced the two men.

Services Are Held For Orin Stevens

Funeral services for Orin (Mike) Stevens were held at 2 P. M. Wednesday in the Gerstner Funeral Home.

Rev. Ray Jones of the Medway Church of Christ read from the Scriptures, offered prayer, delivered a sermon, paid personal tribute to Mr. Stevens and read the hymn "I Won't Have to Cross Jordan Alone" and the poem "If Thou Wilt Hold My Hand, O Lord."

The many flowers were cared for by the pallbearers, Lewis Lowry, J. Franklin Schaefer, Robert Roal, Ralph Englert, Lloyd Saxton and Charles Greer.

Burial was in the family lot in the Paint Township Cemetery in Madison County.

Minor Is Sworn In As Member of ICC

Robert W. Minor, who is well known here, today is a member of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

The 36-year-old Columbus native is the youngest man ever named to the commission and is the first from Ohio since the ICC was created in 1887. He is a Republican and his appointment was made by President Eisenhower.

Mrs. Minor is the former Miss Joan Allen, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard C. Allen of Oakland Avenue here. Mr. and Mrs. Minor and their two children come to Washington C. H. to visit with Mrs. Minor's parents three or four times a year and it is during these visits he had made friends here.

The Minors went to the nation's capital soon after their marriage when he was first on the staff of the Ferguson investigating committee and then was named the executive assistant to Sen. John W. Bricker. An attorney, Minor later went into the office of the United States attorney general, a position he had to resign to accept the ICC appointment.

Services Are Held For Mrs. Draper

Funeral services for Mrs. Florence V. Draper were held at 2 P. M. Wednesday in the Parrett Funeral Home.

Rev. Don McMillin of the First Church of Christ offered prayer, read from the Scriptures, delivered a sermon and read the poems "Crossing the Bar" and "Mother Knows."

Mrs. Carolyn Dunlap sang "In the Garden" and "Beyond the Sunset."

with piano accompaniment by Mrs. Robert Parrett.

The many flowers were cared for by the pallbearers, Robert Smith, Captain Robert Rice, Willard Bayless, Fred Bayless, Ralph Linget, and Allen Conrad. Burial was in Fairview Cemetery in Jeffersonville.

PTA Council Sets New Grant

WHS Senior To Get $250 Scholarship

A $250 scholarship for a 1956 graduate of Washington C. H. High School was set up Wednesday night at a meeting at the high school of the Parent-Teacher Association Council.

The scholarship will be given to one of this year's seniors going on to college and majoring in education.

The scholarship is to be given annually, to a senior selected by the PTA Council Executive Committee from nominations by the high school scholarship committee.

If the student whom the scholarship is awarded decides not to go to college or major in something other than education, another person will be selected for the scholarship.

This scholarship may supplement other grants the student may receive.

The Council members decided to keep the name of the person receiving the scholarship secret until announced at the commencement program.

THE AMOUNT of the scholarship this year was set at $250. But the scholarship cannot be less in any year than the amount received from taking the annual school census.

Until this year, the school census has been taken by the teachers themselves. This year, groups of parents appointed by the PTA president in each school will handle the census task. This will free the teachers from the extra chore and net the PTA Council some extra cash for the new scholarship fund.

The Council also discussed means of giving recognition to students taking part in the safety patrol at city schools. A committee, headed by Earl Miller, was appointed to suggest means of giving recognition this year.

On the committee besides Miller are Leo Whiteside, Hugh Rea, John Leland and Robert Wolforn.

Mrs. Warner Penrod, president of the council, selected a committee to nominate next year's officers. On the committee are Mrs. William Junk, chairman, Mrs. John Boyer, Mrs. Harold Lyons and Mrs. Charles Sheridan.

It was reported that the group now has $277.97 in the treasury. The council will meet again April 5.

Requiem Mass Held For J. H. Pursell

Requiem High Mass for James H. Pursell was held 9:30 A. M. Thursday at St. Colman Catholic Church. Father Richard Connelly offered Mass.

Mrs. Maxine Wilson, Mrs. Al Canaway, Miss Joie Peters, Miss Mary Ann Hackett, Miss Joy Lucas and Miss Jean Canaway sang the Mass with Miss Margaret McDonald accompanying on the organ. Altar boys who served Mass were Donald Fox, Hugh Lentz, Gerald Wright, Pat O'Connor and Arnold Ward.

Pallbearers were Joe Fortier, George Severy, Dick McLean, Charles Osborne, Hoy Simmons and Earl Smith.

Burial was in the family lot in Washington C. H. Cemetery.

Final Rites Held For John M. Weade

Final services for City Councilman John M. Weade were held 3:30 P. M. Wednesday at the Kirkpatrick Funeral Home here with Rev. Clinton W. Swengel of the Grace Methodist Church conducting services.

Mr. Weade, 73, was elected to the Washington C. H. Council last November. He died 11:30 A. M. Monday at his home, 1035 Washington Avenue, following an illness of three months.

The services Wednesday were very largely attended. Attending in a body headed by City Manager James F. Parkinson were City Council members C. L. Musser, Paul Van Voorhis and Ben Norris.

Rev. Swengel read from the Scriptures, offered prayer and paid personal tribute to Mr. Weade.

Active pallbearers were Loren Johnson, Richard Rankin, Seigel Mossbarger, Hughey Thompson and Glenn Rodgers.

Honorary pallbearers were Dr. Fred Woolard, Luther King, Willard Everhart, Frank Thatcher, Arch O. Ribber, Russell Schnell, A. B. McDonald, Ched Roberts, George O'Brian, Walter B. Thompson and Walter McLean.

Burial was in the family lot in the Sugar Grove Cemetery on Greenfield Road.

Three Arrests Are Made Wednesday

Three arrests were made by the police during Wednesday, and one of them, Dwight Lee Cardiff, city, was for driving while drunk.

Cardiff posted $350 bond for his appearance in municipal court. Roger D. Gorman and William Woodrow, both of this city, were picked up on excessive noise charges, and furnished bond for appearance in court.

Special Counsel Appointed For Baldridge Case

No Additional Names For Jurors Have Been Drawn Yet

Attorney Ray W. Davis has been appointed special counsel to assist Prosecutor John S. Bath in the second degree murder against George Baldridge. It is scheduled for trial beginning Monday, Feb. 27.

It was noted in the entry placed on the records by Judge John P. Case that Davis had volunteered his services and that his appointment was requested by Prosecutor John S. Bath.

Inasmuch as Davis has volunteered his services, the county will not pay him a fee for participating in the case.

So far no additional veniremen have been drawn for prospective jury duty in the Baldridge case. This probably will be done soon, however.

Baldridge is charged with killing Game Protector Irvin J. Patrick while the officer was discharging his duty on the opening day of the hunting season Nov. 15. Baldridge allegedly interfered to prevent him from taking a prisoner into court.

The civil action filed against Baldridge by Mrs. Patrick, in which she asks $150,000 damages for the death of her husband, will be scheduled for hearing some time after the second degree murder case is heard.

Who will represent Baldridge in the criminal case, in addition to E. S. Young, former common pleas judge of Adams County, has not been officially announced.

Cub Pack Arranges Blue & Gold Night

Cub Scout Pack 229 of Cherry Hill School will hold their annual "Blue and Gold" banquet at Grace Methodist Church Feb. 21. The banquet is to be a covered dish supper for the Cubs and their families.

Ivan Kelley will present achievement awards at the dinner, scheduled for 6 P. M. Plans will be made at that time for advance ticket sales to the Scout-O-Rama in Columbus March 17 and 18.

Shepherds Club Here Hears Two Specialists

Ralph Grimshaw, Ohio State University extension animal science specialist and Paul Getz, manager of the Wool Growers Association, spoke to 35 Fayette County sheep men Wednesday evening at a Shepherds Club meeting in the Farm Bureau auditorium.

Grimshaw gave a five-part formula to bring about high labor returns or high returns from ewes.

The points considered were the number of lambs born, amount of milk given per ewe, pounds of wool shorn per ewe, small death loss and job done in marketing lambs and wool.

Grimshaw explained that place and time marketing and quality of the product sold were most important as part of the final point.

The Extension specialist said that most brood ewes should be receiving grain now, the amount dependent upon the quality of hay or roughage which the ewes are receiving.

He further explained that the proper ration a month prior to lambing should prevent the lambing paralysis disease.

A program to keep sheep free from internal parasites was given. This program consists of four steps.

In early spring dose all sheep before turning to pasture with phenothiazine drench or pellets. In the summer feed constantly a mixture of one pound of phenothiazine powder and nine pounds of salt in a covered trough. Give no other salt while sheep are on pasture.

Drench all lambs by July 1 with phenothiazine and lead arsenate. At breeding time, drench entire flock with phenothiazine - lead arsenate.

In late fall, after freezing weather sets in, dose with the phenothiazine drench.

Do not withhold feed or water before or after treatment.

Grimshaw said that this worming program was doing a beautiful job in many of the flocks throughout the state.

Getz, in his remarks concerning the Wool Incentive program, said that because of the lower price of wool on the open wool market, mills can now operate at a profit and wool producers can now compete with the synthetic producers to a more favorable extent.

He further stated that wool producers have until April 30 to get their applications for the Incentive Program into the ASC office.
